Provincetown, Mass.

PROVINCETOWN, MASSACHUSETTS
OFFICE OF THE SELECTMEN
C. AUSTIN COOK, CHAIRMAN

January 30, 1914.

Mrs. C. P. Curley, Secy.
Nautilus Club, Provincetown.

Madam:-

We are in receipt of your communication notifying us of the gift to the town by the Nautilus Club, of the public drinking fountain erected during the past summer on the Town Hall lawn.

We accept this gift with pleasure, and congratulate you on the public spirit which prompted it. It has proved a blessing to dumb animals and is an ornament to the town.

We earnestly hope your example may be followed by others.

Yours very truly,
A. P. Hannum,
Clerk.

After the erection of the public fountain the Nautilus Club find they are a little in debt, and are in need of money for the fence.

After carefully considering the question we have decided that a "Flag Day" July 4th will call for no great expenditure of money by any one individual and the five or ten cents you drop in the boxes for a flag will surely be appreciated. We hope to see every one interested in the improvement of our town wearing a flag on this day.

We also wish at this time to thank our many friends for their kindly cooperation in the work we are trying to do and for their helpful words of encouragement.

All club women who happen to be in Provincetown July 4th will be cordially welcomed at the Nautilus Club rooms from three to five.

Special attractions at four.

The Nautilus Club wish to thank every one who purchased a flag on July 4th and also to thank those who sold them. The amount each one collected is as follows:

Olivia Rogers,	$7 24
Mary Adams and Louise Allan,	7 00
Ethel Westcott,	4 85
Edna Dill,	4 76
Louise Copley,	4 59
Clarence Curley,	4 30
Bessie Marshall,	4 14
Priscilla Lombard and Eleanor Copley,	3 86
Lillian Cook,	3 49
Frances Nelson,	3 02
Jeannette MacMurray,	2 89
Esther Lombard,	2 55
Mary Matheson,	2 55
Mary Rich,	2 47
Jessie Suker,	2 00
Rose Ellis,	1 78

The new drinking fountain presented to the town by the Nautilus Club has been placed in position the past week on the east lawn, town hall grounds, from which a section of the iron fence was removed to make the fountain accessible. The fountain is surrounded at its base by a freshly laid platform of concrete, half circle shape, bordered by a curbing of the same material, and the curbing is to be surmounted by a fence of some kind.

Mrs. Mary Heaton Vorse O'Brien spoke to the Nautilus Club and its friends Thursday afternoon at the clubroom. Her listeners sat in rapt attention while "Morocco, Her Homes and Her Women" were delightfully described. Photographs and the national dress procured and exhibited by Mrs. O'Brien made the lecture vivid and unusually interesting. Those who had the pleasure of hearing the talk will always remember Mrs. O'Brien's gentle manner, her soft voice, and her fine selection of words. The musical entertainment was a Chopin selection played by Miss Ina Small and a vocal solo by Miss Isabel Small. Refreshments ended the program of the day.

Mr. Clapp's talk on Gettysburg was greatly enjoyed by the Nautilus members and their guests.

In accordance with the annual custom of the Nautilus Club a cake and candy sale will be held on the Pilgrim Church lawn Tuesday, June 17th.

Blanche Ring.

THEY have built a monument on top of Town Hill, Provincetown, Mass., which is the jumping off point when going down Cape Cod, to commemorate the first landing of the Pilgrims, a month or so before they sailed across the bay to Plymouth.

This monument beats Bunker Hill in the matter of height and was the occasion of the visit of two Presidents to the picturesque village, but as far as I am concerned, the Clam Pie I discovered while touring the Cape in my car last Summer impressed me far more than the monument did, and might well be dedicated to the historical event of which all the natives are so proud.

I begged and obtained the recipe for this delicious dish from Miss Louise C. Paine, president of the Nautilus Club, an organization that provides afternoon tea for thirsty visitors and drinking fountains for May 25th the Nautilus Club held the last regular meeting of the year at their club room. The evening was taken up with a short business meeting, a social with invited guests, and a chafing dish supper that was enjoyed by all.

The subject of study "Richard Wagner and His Compositions" are to be taken up at a special meeting.

The Nautilus Club were the pleased recipients of a beautiful American flag presented by husbands and friends of the members.

horses and dogs, whether visitors or residents. Miss Paine comes of an old New England family that, while the first members didn't come over on the Mayflower, they are said to have crossed on a smaller vessel of the same line.

Miss Paine tried to tell me all about the history of the town, but I interrupted her long enough to obtain the following:

One pint soft shell clams. Remove sacks, wash in several waters to free from sand. Chop fine. Fry out three medium slices of fat pork and remove scraps. Into this put the prepared clams and cook a few minutes. Thicken with flour mixed with a little cold water. Stir until it becomes quite thick. Season with a little butter, pepper and salt if necessary. Cool and bake between crusts same as apple pie. Serve hot.

The sixth annual meeting of the Nautilus Club was held Monday evening. The following officers were elected:

President—Miss Louise C. Paine.

Vice President—Miss Nina S. Williams.

Rec. Secretary—Mrs. Harriet M. Johnson.

Cor. Secretary—Mrs. Clio R. Curley.

Treasurer—Mrs. Elizabeth K. Hopkins.

The Nautilus Club will have a Rummage Sale in its club room in the rear of J. T. Small's Bakery, Monday and Tuesday afternoon May 19th and 20th at 2 o'clock.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the sale will find the club room open Saturday afternoon. If anyone has a contribution and desires the members to call for the same, they will be glad to do it.

The first meeting of the Nautilus Club was held in its rooms Oct. 13th.

After a few cordial words of greeting by the president, there was a short business meeting and the following members joined the club: Miss Ina Small, Dr. Ella Birge, Mrs. Irving Collins and Miss Myrtie Kelley.

Excellent papers on "England's Capital" and "English Antiquities" were read.

There will be a "Rummage Sale" at the Nautilus Club rooms Oct. 24th and 25th.

Persons willing to contribute articles for this sale will please notify Mrs. Annie Young or Mrs. Clara Watson.

Oct. 27th the Nautilus Club met in its club rooms. Roll call was answered by quotations on "England", articles were read on "Religion of Early Britons", "Alfred, Greatest of Saxon Kings" and "Old London" also an excellent paper was read on the Royal Family.

The Nautilus Club met Nov. 10th. Roll call was answered by quotations from Thomas Carlyle. Subjects of the evening were: "Stratford on Avon" and "The Bard of Avon".

Nov. 17th the Nautilus members enjoyed a most delightful social afternoon and evening at their club rooms.

The Drama and Theatre before Shakespeare's Time and the Elizabethan Age, and "Parliament and the Leaders in Parliament" were the subjects of study taken up by the Nautilus Club. Nov. 24th.

The answers to roll call were quotations from Shakespeare.

The Nautilus Club met Monday evening, Dec. 8th, at their club rooms. Interesting papers on the "English Lake Country" and "Poets of the Lake School" were read. Miss Martha Fernald and Miss Joyce Bisby joined the club.

The members of the Nautilus Club were entertained Dec. 22d by a paper on "Prose Writers of the English Lake Country" and by a "Fagot Party and Guessing Contest." As each member placed her fagot on the fire a story, game, reading and music was given while the light was dim and the fagots slowly burned. Bunches of fagots were used to decorate the room. It was an evening enjoyed by all.

The two subjects of study in the Nautilus Club Jan. 14th, were "A Day in Old Oxford" and "John Wesley, the Founder of Methodism." Roll call was answered by quotations from Wesley.

The Nautilus Club will give the first of its winter series of public whist parties at the club room rear of Small's Bakery, Tuesday evening, Jan. 27th at 7.30 o'clock. Tickets 25 cts.

The Nautilus Club met Feb. 23d; subjects of study were: "The British Nation at Play" and "History of English Art." Roll call was answered with quotations from Pope.

At the Nautilus Club rooms Feb. 25 a social was given all who participated in the "Trial by Jury". Capt. Cook told them in a most interesting manner of the Eskimo home life and an excellent musical program was given. Refreshments were served after which games occupied the remainder of the evening.

On the 18th of this month preceded by an interesting programme, there will be a performance given of Gilbert and Sullivan's opera "Trial by Jury."

This is a story of a breach of promise suit brought by one Angelina against Edwin and the libretto amusingly describes, in the truly inimitable Gilbertian style, the absurdities and vicissitudes of such a case.

The scene is laid in a court room. Finally the judge in an access of disdain for the whole course of the proceedings, and incidentally vowing that the plaintiff "Angelina" is worthy of capture, comes down from the bench vowing he will marry her himself, and with a rousing chorus of the whole court arraigning the defendant and calling him a snob, with which he is well contented for he has to pay no damages, the curtain comes down with the whole thing settled satisfactorily to all parties.

The Nautilus Club is presenting this most unusual performance for Provincetown, and they have engaged the services of Mr. Arthur Diehl as trainer and manager of the event.

It is hoped that the enterprise may be very successful and pave the way for still more brilliant efforts along this line for we are just beginning to realize that we have plenty of native talent without going out of town to find it. Tickets for the performance will be on sale at Adams Drug Store

Seats are now on sale at Adams' Drug Store for the great Dramatic cantata, "Trial by Jury" to be held Feb. 18 in Town Hall. Mr. Arthur Diehl is sparing no effort in making this entertainment both amusing and classic. There is just the right amount of real melodrama and human touch to this cantata to hold one's interest and attention. The almost hopeless tangle of the situation will be unravelled by the clever wit of the Judge.

Anniversary night in the Nautilus Club was observed March 2nd. After supper at the New Central House the club met in the "Nautilus" rooms which were prettily decorated for the occasion. The "Birthday" cake was especially attractive and was a gift to the club from Mr. J. T. Small. An interesting programme was provided which every one thoroughly enjoyed.

"Edinburgh, Old and New" and Walter Scott were subjects of the Nautilus Club March 9th. As their name was called each member responded with a quotation from "Lady of the Lake."

March 23d the subjects of study in the Nautilus Club were "The Scotch Crofters and among the Scotch Fishermen" and "The Islands of Scotland."

March 24th the Nautilus Club observed "Guest Night." The club rooms were prettily decorated with potted plants. The program for the evening consisted of reading, vocal and instrumental music.

All who were privileged to hear Miss Abbie Putnam lecture on her trip to Baddeck were enthusiastic in their praise; it was something to enjoy that evening and to remember with pleasure.

April 13th the Nautilus Club listened to interesting papers on "In Shamrock Land" and "Irish Peasants and Rural Life."

Apr. 27th the papers were "Ireland's Industrial Revival" and "Home Rule and Political Leaders". Roll call—Quotations from Goldsmith.

The seventh annual meeting of the Nautilus Club was held May 11th. The following officers were elected:

President—Miss Nina Williams.
Vice President—Mrs. Harriet Johnson.
Rec. Secretary—Mrs. W. Wolff.
Cor. Secretary—Miss Ina Small.
Treasurer—Miss Myrtie Kelley.

The Nautilus Club held its last regular meeting on May 26th, with the new officers presiding. One new member, Miss Margaret Wolfe, was admitted. The Club work for the year was finished with a reading of Kipling's "Ballad of East and West," by Miss Small, and the meeting adjourned until October 12th.

A cake and candy sale will be held on Wednesday afternoon the 24th on the lawn of the Church of the Pilgrims by the Nautilus Club.

Nautilus Club.

The Nautilus Club held its first meeting of the season October 12th. After a short business meeting, papers were read on Early English Literature.

On October 26th, the Nautilus Club met in the Club Rooms. Roll Call was answered by quotations from the "Idylls of the King". The program of the evening consisted of several papers on the life and literature of England in the Norman French Period. The Club voted to send a money contribution to the Belgian Relief Committee. They also voted to begin the usual whist parties of the winter on Tuesday, November 10th.

Any one wishing to aid the suffering and destitute Belgians please bring clothing to the Nautilus Club Rooms on Monday, November 2d, between three and five P. M. Any half worn clothing that is clean and mended will be most gladly received and sent by the Club to the Belgian Relief Committee.

At the Nautilus Club meeting on Monday evening last, resolutions were passed, endorsing Senate Bill, No. 78, which makes it illegal to sell milk produced under filthy conditions, and House Bill, No. 1340, which provides for the enforcement of Senate Bill, No. 78.

The program for the evening was "The Beginnings of the Novel" and included reviews of the works of Daniel Defoe, Horace Walpole, and Fanny Burney. Current events closed the meeting as usual.

The Nautilus Club observed its eighth anniversary on Monday evening, the fifteenth. A turkey supper was served in the club rooms at six o'clock. Pretty little valentines were the place cards and the usual birthday cake with its pink and white frosting was in evidence. During the evening, a pleasant entertainment, consisting of music and readings was provided by and for the members. Whist and other games followed, rounding out a most enjoyable and memorable birthday for the Club.

Last Monday evening was Guest Night at the Nautilus Club. There were about sixty present, who were delighted with the following program:

Piano Solo—Miss Dickinson.

Costumed Noveletza

will give a very interesting program of Songs, Dances, and Character Sketches, under the auspices of the

NAUTILUS CLUB

Miss Gladys Beulah Powers of New York, who will give the entertainment in Town Hall on next Monday evening, is a fine contralto singer. She is to give this entertainment in Falmouth and Hyannis this week. The entertainment is very attractive and always the audience is delighted with the Dutch, Highland, Japanese and Spanish Dances which she gives. There are a few reserved seats for sale at Adams' Pharmacy. Admission 25 cents; reserved seats 35 cents. The doors will be opened at 7.15. The entertainment begins at 7.45.

Under the auspices of the Nautilus Club a unique entertainment was given in Town Hall, Monday evening.

Miss Gladys Bulah Powers of New York City in her excellent interpretation of costumed sketches and dances gave her responsive audience realistic glimpses of far away Japan, Bonnie Scotland, Ireland, and Holland. Miss Marie Woodbury Clarke charmed all with her piano selections which show technique of unusual ability.

The following was the program of the evening.

Piano Solo, Japonica"—Miss Clarke.

While on the Cape the above program was rendered in Wel'fleet under the auspices of the Band and in Hyannis by the Woman's Club. Their summer months will be spent in touring Long Island Resorts.

On Wednesday evening, at the Pilgrim Theatre, an added feature to the regular picture bill will be an operetta in which thirty local juvenile actors will appear under the auspices of the Nautilus Club. The story of the operetta is founded on the fairy tale of Cinderella and the Prince and will serve to give an old and familiar background to a series of very modern and attractive dances, for which the children have been coached by Miss Christine Nickerson. The costumes, which have been made by the ladies of the club, were designed by Miss Ina Small and Miss Nickerson. Tickets for this very attractive entertainment will be twenty-five cents, children fifteen cents.

At the Pilgrim Theatre Wednesday evening, May 5th, "Cinderella in Flowerland" in four scenes will be presented under the auspices of the Nautilus Club by thirty children with the following cast of characters:

Fairy—Ethel Westcott.

“Cinderella in Flowerland,” an advance program of which was given in last week's Advocate, was played to a crowded house in the Pilgrim theatre last night. Thirty children, drilled to the point of perfection in their respective parts, performed admirably, to the complete satisfaction of their painstaking director: Miss Christine Nickerson, and a big delighted audience.

The Nautilus Club wishes to thank every one who so kindly aided in the recent production of “Cinderella in Flowerland”. All members of the cast please return costumes complete to the Nautilus Club.

The Nautilus Club held its eighth annual meeting on Tuesday, May 11th, this meeting having been postponed from Monday evening. The following officers were elected:

President—Miss Ina M. Small.

Vice President—Mrs. Edith N. Wolfe.

Rec. Secretary—Miss Margaret A. Wolfe.

Cor. Secretary—Miss Mertie C. Kelley.

Treasurer—Mrs. Nettie T. Collins.

The Nautilus Club will hold a rummage sale in their club room on Wednesday, the 26th. Parties having articles they wish to contribute will please notify members of the club and they will be called for.

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held at the club rooms on Monday evening. Considerable business was transacted and the program of the evening, the subject of which was modern music, was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 15th, and will be observed as anniversary night.

The Nautilus Club observed its ninth anniversary Tuesday evening, Feb. 15, at the club room. The regular meeting was preceded by a sumptuous feast of which the majority of the members partook. After the repast an interesting program of speeches and music was enjoyed. A short business session was held followed by a game. At a seasonable hour all returned to their homes feeling that the coming year had been auspiciously ushered in.

The Nautilus Club held its regular meeting Feb. 28th, at the club room. After the business meeting a short program was enjoyed.

The Cabaret Dance which took place in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening under the direction of the Nautilus Club, was a great success. The balcony rail was prettily draped with pink and green, the stage banked in green, and, together with sociable white covered tables and their little vases of pink and yellow roses, made a most attractive ensemble.

Mr. Ralph Stevens of Hyannis, who sang several charming songs, was warmly received. Miss Christine Nickerson gave three exhibition dances and a group of patriotically attired children sang "America, I love you" and danced most gracefully. Each alternate number on the program was a general dance.

The tables were well patronized during the entire evening. Sandwiches, ice cream, sherbet, cake, candy and various cooling beverages at moderate prices were served by the members of the Club.

Every one enjoyed the evening to such an extent that the Club is arranging for other entertainments of like character during the spring and summer.

The Nautilus Club will give a Cabaret Dance, Tuesday evening, March 7. General dancing, exhibition dancing by Miss Christine Nickerson and partners and novelty dances. Vocal solos by Mr. Ralph Stevens accompanied by Miss Norine Doane. Varied refreshments served at the tables. General admission 25 cents. Tickets sold by members of the Club only.

Committee—Miss Carrie O. Matheson, Mrs. Wm. H. Young, Miss Florence E. Hudson, Mrs. Irving H. Collins, Miss Norine H. Doane.

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held at the club room Tuesday evening, March 14. After the business meeting the program of the evening was taken up. "How Our Country is Governed", and proved very interesting.

Last Tuesday evening the Nautilus Club observed their annual guest night. The program of the evening was as follows:

Piano Solo—Miss Emma Collins.

Vocal Solo—Madeline Silva.

"Our Trip to the North West"—Mrs. W. B. Bangs.

Violin Solo—Mr. Charles Rogers.

Piano Solo—Miss Norine Doane.

Mrs. Bangs' talk was extremely interesting and enjoyed by all.

At the end of the program, punch and crackers were served, and dancing and cards was in order.

The members of the Nautilus Club passed an enjoyable afternoon together at the Club room on Monday, April 10th. Following the social hour a quick lunch was served to which all did full justice. In the evening beginning at 7.30 the regular meeting was held during which an excellent musical and literary program was rendered.

The Nautilus Club held its regular meeting at the club room Monday evening, April 24. The business meeting was succeeded by an interesting paper and discussion on "Health".

July 4th 1916.

PROVINCETOWN.

The Nautilus Club. 1916

In last week's issue of the Advocate, an article on the "Fourth" mentioned the above Club's float as a "thing of beauty." From all quarters the members have had congratulations on having the prettiest and most artistic float of the pageant; a satisfaction greater than any cut and dried prize could give. Thanks to the public.

Preceded by a magnificent horse of silver gray, decorated in pink, the Club's float bore a nautilus shell of pink and silver with pretty little Elizabeth Kelley seated inside. This shell was mounted on seaweed over which arched ropes of pink chrysanthemums. At the four corners were members representing mermaids, each bearing shields with the following inscriptions—Art and Music, Home Economics, Civic Improvement and Literature; for these are some of the subjects that the Club discusses at its bi-monthly meetings during the year.

Throughout its ten years of existence, it has grown in membership from seven to twenty-five. It is not exclusive in regards to a large number, yet it finds that more interesting and congenial work can be done on a smaller basis, for in a union of a few, there is a unity of strength and purpose.

The Nautilus Club belongs to both the Mass. Federation and to the National Federation of Women's Clubs, thus keeping in touch with work down elsewhere. It receives many letters from well-known people and organizations; also invitations to worthwhile meetings. The Club has been represented at some of these meetings by its own members acting as delegates, who have read such able papers on subjects assigned, that copies have had to be circulated among other clubs of the country.

The meetings of the Club are as restful as the seats which they installed in our park for the weary sojourners; they are as refreshing as the life-sustaining draughts of pure water that flows from the ornamental drinking fountain, donated by the club and placed nearby; they are as clean as the streets of the town were a few years ago, when swept by the Club.

Perhaps next year, it would be well if the Club borrowed the refuse barrels presented by that organization for a more spectacular float; if so, it might be able to win the prize, which it would gladly give to the proper authorities for the sake of having those barrels back in their respective street corners.

Friends have given the Club a tract of land at the rear of the town which is beautifully situated near a pond and work has commenced to convert the same into a play ground.

The Club has placed signs on our woodland roads and has donated sums to worthy causes, both in this country and Europe. It has been the promoter of better conditions around our railroad station and of some societies in this town.

The Nautilus Club Rooms are centrally located overlooking the spacious harbor and to them the public are invited to attend the social affairs which will be given every Tuesday afternoon during July and August for the small sum of ten cents. A committee will always be there to welcome guests.

Like all organizations that are alive, the Club has received a few raps, but its members consider "every knock a boost" and on it goes. Its friends are legion both in town and out.

This Club has not leaped from great beginnings to the line of one simple motive, but it has been conservative enough to plant small seed which have borne fruit so comprehensive that if the Club were to go out of existence before another ten years have rolled around, it would consider its work well done and the message of the "Chambered Nautilus" would ring true:

"Build thee more stately mansions,
O my soul,
As the swift season roll!
Leave the low-vaulted past!
Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast,
Till thou at length are free,
Leaving thine out-grown shell by life's unresting sea!"

The Nautilus Club held their regular meeting in the club rooms Feb. 26. After the business meeting papers on the European war were read by Mrs. Curley and Mrs. Birge and everybody had something to say on the matter, making it a very interesting meeting.

A handkerchief shower was given Miss Carrie Matheson by the Nautilus Club at their rooms on the afternoon of July 6th. The committee in charge were Miss Florence Hudson and Miss Norine Doane. A very happy party gathered and were royally entertained. Crackers, sandwiches, candy and tea were served.

Mrs. Isabelle V. Cowen of New York city, entertained the members of the Nautilus Club in their room on Thursday afternoon, September 21st. Mrs. Cowen is a teacher of expression, dramatic reading and story telling. She was especially pleasing, and every member felt they had not only been entertained but had received much instruction and the afternoon had been very profitably spent. After the talk tea and sandwiches were served.

On the evening of July 4th the Nautilus Club opened their rooms to the public. Very many made use of the piazza in the rear for the purpose of watching the fire works in the harbor. Punch was served and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The Nautilus Club held their regular meeting Monday, May 8, in the club rooms. After a very good supper they elected the following new officers:

President—Mrs. Edith N. DeWolf.
Vice Pres.—Miss Margaret A. DeWolf.
Recording Secretary—Miss Mertie Kelley.
Cor. Sec.—Mrs. Bessie Birge.
Treas.—Miss Florence Hudson.

The Nautilus Club spent a very pleasant afternoon on Nov. 13, 1916, in their rooms. A fine supper was served and followed by the business meeting. Miss Ina Small read a most entertaining paper on Alaska, the Nation's Pride.

On the evening of March 26, 1917, the Nautilus Club celebrated their annual guest night. The hall was very prettily decorated with flags, bunting and green boughs. The program for the evening was as follows:

America by the entire company.
Piano Solo, Morceau Chromatique, Orth—Miss Ina Small.

A paper by Mrs. Healey, "Were the Old Times Better Than the New."
Vocal Solos, Stars Brightly Shining—Bront and Slumber Song, Gaynor, —Mr. William Newton, accompanied by Miss Nina Williams.

Piano Solos, Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 11, Liszt, Danse Negre, Cyril Scott—Miss Norine Doane.

Star Spangled Banner—Guests.
After this buffet lunch was served and social time enjoyed by all.

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held in their rooms Feb. 12, 1917. Papers were read about the life of Abraham Lincoln and stories were told of his life.

The members of the Nautilus Club will meet in their club room, Dec. 11, 1916, at 2 P. M., for a social and supper before their regular business meeting.

A Rummage Sale will be held at the Nautilus Club Rooms on Wednesday afternoon, May 24.

The Nautilus Club celebrated its tenth birthday Thursday, Feb. 15th. When the members gathered in their rooms at six o'clock a very pretty sight met their eyes. A long table was filled with goodies and very daintily trimmed with club colors. In the center was a large cake frosted in pink and silver and holding ten pink candles. The menu was oyster cocktail, tomato salad, pressed chicken, rolls, olives, frozen pudding, coffee, nuts, raisins and mints. A very pretty feature was candy hearts surrounding the cake under which were conundrums on each member. These furnished much merriment when read. After the banquet, Miss Small presided at the piano and rendered pleasing selections, vocal and instrumental. Miss Holway and Mrs. Healey read papers on the past and present. All enjoyed the evening and came away with many pleasant things to think over.

The regular business meeting of the Nautilus Club was held in their club rooms Nov. 27. After the business, Miss Nina Williams entertained the members with a paper on Shakespere, reading his life history and many very fine selections from his different dramas. Miss McIntyre read Antony's speech at Caesar's grave and Miss Ina Small played a very pretty selection on the piano.

The Nautilus Club announces a series of mid-summer matinee performances, the first of which will be given at the Club House, Thursday, July 13, at 2.30 P. M., admission ten cents. The entertainment on this occasion will be furnished by the pupils of Miss Norine Doane, under her own personal direction, and readings by Mrs. Mary E. Sparrow. The committee for this performance consists of Miss Louise C. Paine and Miss Nina Williams. Other members of the club will furnish the remaining attractions.

On the 16th of June the Nautilus Club will hold a cake and candy sale at the store of Mr. John Cook, four doors west of the Post Office.

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club for Dec. 25, 1916, is postponed until Jan. 8, 1917.

At a meeting of the Nautilus Club held on the evening of May 14th the following officers for the ensuing year were elected:

President—Mrs. C. C. Campbell.
Vice President—Miss Mercy Kelley
Recording Secretary — Miss Florence Hudson.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. C. M. Pennell.
Treasurer—Mrs. Bessie Birge.

The Nautilus Club held its last regular meeting of the year on the evening of May 28th, at which, in spite of the heavy rain, many of the members were present. After the business was disposed of, very pleasing papers were read by Mrs. Collins on "Palestine" and Miss Mercy Kelley on "Old Washington". At the close of the meeting a sociable half hour was enjoyed by all.

The Nautilus Club will hold a cake sale on the afternoon of June 15th. Place of sale to be announced later.

A very pleasant day was enjoyed by all who attended the Nautilus Club picnic last Saturday at the Young cottage in North Truro.

A cake sale will be held by the Nautilus Club in the vestibule of the Church of the Pilgrims on Friday afternoon, June 15th.

PROVINCETOWN.

The Nautilus Club. 1917

In last week's issue of the Advocate, an article on the "Fourth" mentioned the above Club's float as a "thing of beauty." From all quarters the members have had congratulations on having the prettiest and most artistic float of the pageant; a satisfaction greater than any cut and dried prize could give. Thanks to the public.

Preceded by a magnificent horse of silver gray, decorated in pink, the Club's float bore a nautilus shell of pink and silver with pretty little Elizabeth Kelley seated inside. This shell was mounted on seaweed over which arched ropes of pink chrysanthemums. At the four corners were members representing mermaids, each bearing shields with the following inscriptions—Art and Music, Home Economics, Civic Improvement and Literature; for these are some of the subjects that the Club discusses at its bi-monthly meetings during the year.

Throughout its ten years of existence it has grown in membership from seven to twenty-five. It is not only in regard to a large number of interests represented at some of these meetings by its own members acting as delegates, who have read such able papers on subjects assigned, that copies have had to be circulated among other clubs of the country.

The meetings of the Club are as restful as the seats which they installed in our park for the weary sojourners; they are as refreshing as the life-sustaining draughts of pure water that flows from the ornamental drinking fountain, donated by the club and placed nearby; they are as clean as the streets of the town were a few years ago, when swept by the Club.

Perhaps next year, it would be well if the Club borrowed the refuse barrels presented by that organization for a more spectacular float; if so, it might be able to win the prize, which it would gladly give to the proper authorities for the sake of having those barrels back in their respective street corners.

Friends have given the Club a tract of land at the rear of the town which is beautifully situated near a pond and work has commenced to convert the same into a play ground.

The Club has placed signs on our woodland roads and has donated sums to worthy causes, both in this country and Europe. It has been the promoter of better conditions around our railroad station and of some societies in this town.

The Nautilus Club Rooms are centrally located overlooking the spacious harbor and to them the public are invited to attend the social affairs which will be given every Tuesday afternoon during July and August for the small sum of ten cents. A committee will always be there to welcome guests.

Like all organizations that are alive, the Club has received a few rays, but its members consider "every knock a boost" and on it goes. Its friends are legion both in town and out.

This Club has not leaped from great beginnings to the line of one simple motive, but it has been conservative enough to plant small seed which have borne fruit so comprehensive that if the Club were to go out of existence before another ten years have rolled around, it would consider its work well done and the message of the "Chambered Nautilus" would ring true:

"Build thee more stately mansions,
O my soul,
As the swift season roll!
Leave the low-vaulted past!
Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast,
Till thou at length are free,
Leaving thine out-grown shell by life's unresting sea!"

A special meeting of the Nautilus Club will be held in the club rooms on Friday evening, July 6th, at 7.30 o'clock.

The first regular meeting of the Nautilus Club for this season was held on the afternoon and evening of Oct. 8th at their club rooms.

The afternoon was a social affair and a delightful supper served by the hostess, Mrs. Healey, and enjoyed by all, was followed by the regular business meeting.

The program consisting of short anecdotes relating to the noted women in philanthropy was given and discussed by the different members.

The Nautilus Club met Oct. 22 in its club rooms. Roll call was answered by each member present giving the name of an American artist. After the business meeting, at which it was voted that the club purchase a Liberty Bond, the members were entertained with a most delightful and instructive program.

Mr. Beneker read a very pleasing paper on art, dealing with the first primitive designers of pottery down to the present day artists of America. Many prints were shown and commented upon.

The following piano selections of American music were much appreciated:

Solo, The Witches Flight, Mac Dowell—Miss Doane.

Duet, Narcissus, Nevin—Misses Doane and Small.

At the close a social hour was held in which the hostesses, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Collins, served refreshments.

The members of the Nautilus Club spent a very pleasant evening on Monday, Nov. 12th, in story telling and playing games after the business of the meeting was finished, Miss Norine Doane winning the prize for the best story. Hostesses for the evening were Misses Mertie Kelley and Florence Hudson.

Monday evening, Nov. 26, the Nautilus Club met at its rooms with Mrs. Watson as hostess. The subject for the evening was "Thankfulness," a most appropriate one for this season of the year. The program consisted of musical selections, both instrumental and vocal. These were followed with a paper by Miss Kern of the High School on "Why I am thankful I am an American." No one could listen to her reading of such a paper without a deeper feeling of love for his country and devotion to the cause for which she is fighting.

At the regular meeting of the Nautilus Club which was held at its club room Monday evening, January 21, a novel and decidedly interesting program was enjoyed. Miss Sara Hamlin, who has been for several years preceptress of Dean Academy, gave an informal talk on "King Arthur and his Knights of The Round Table." Certain points in her talk were illustrated by selections which were read from Tennyson's "Idyls of the King". Prints of the famous King Arthur paintings in the Boston Public Library were passed around among the members and their guests. After her talk Miss Hamlin allowed a discussion about the subject to take place in which any member had a chance to make comments and ask questions.

Piano solos were rendered by Miss Small and Miss Doane. Mrs. Wm. H. Young, Miss Doane and Miss McIntire were hostesses for the evening. The program was one of the most delightful that has been given this season.

The Nautilus Club met in their club room, Feb. 11th. The speaker of the evening was Miss Elsie Trabue of the Cape Cod Farm Bureau, who spoke on the Boys and Girls work of the Club. It was a very interesting subject and she was greatly pleased that the town voted the money to carry on the work. Miss Trabue is the teacher of household economics and sewing classes of this district.

The eleventh anniversary of the Nautilus Club was celebrated last Friday evening, Feb. 15, at the club room. A birthday supper was served after which the following program was enjoyed:

- Piano Solo—Miss Ina Small.
 - Paper, Events of the last Club year—Miss McIntyre.
 - Vocal Solo—Miss Hudson.
 - Piano Solo—Miss Emma Collins.
 - Vocal Solo—Miss Small.
 - Piano Solo—Miss Margaret Pennell.
 - Piano Solo—Miss Doane.
- Games ended the evening and all went home happy over an evening pleasantly spent.

A co-operative supper was much enjoyed by the members of the Nautilus Club, Monday, March 11, when the regular meeting of the Club was held in its rooms. The "Jolly Four" a company of girls, were to furnish an original entertainment in the evening, but owing to two of the cast being ill the program was postponed and the club voted to attend the movies as a substitute.

The Nautilus Club held the first meeting of the season, Oct. 13th, in their room. After a Harvest Supper the program of the evening followed. Misses Kelley and Williams read some interesting reports of club work done in various states. Miss MacIntyre reviewed a few of the latest books worth reading. Miss Pine and Mrs. Nickerson were the hostesses of the evening. The following new officers took their chairs:

- Pres.—Miss Florence Hudson.
- Vice Pres.—Mrs. Zilpha Matheson.
- Rec. Sec.—Mrs. Mary MacIntyre.
- Cor. Sec.—Mrs. Evelyn Nickerson.
- Treasurer—Mrs. Harriet Johnson.

The Nautilus Club celebrated its twelfth birthday on Monday evening. The club room was dainty with pink and silver hangings and green plants. At six o'clock the members gathered around the long table with its centerpiece of a large birthday cake, frosted with pink and white bearing twelve candles. Hand-painted place cards caused much laughter over their bright inscriptions. The menu was as follows: Grapefruit cocktail, Scalloped Oysters, Jellied Chicken, Potato salad, Rolls, Pickles, Jelly, Sherbet and Cake, Coffee.

After the supper several members contributed to a pleasing entertainment, each number being announced in rhyme, as is the custom of the club at this yearly gathering. Numerous incidents in the life of the club were read from the scrap-book and discussed by the members, vocal and instrumental music was contributed, two fine poems were read; droll conundrums about various club members were offered by the committee; and the program ended with the singing of an Ode to the Nautilus Club to the tune of America. At nine-thirty the members separated feeling that the thirteenth year had been ushered in auspiciously.

At the Monday evening, Jan. 13th, meeting of the Nautilus Club, Miss Sara Hamlin gave an extremely interesting talk on Cornwall through which she made a delightful journey several years ago. Miss Morawski kindly sang for the Club also; and Miss Small played a piano solo.

The special meeting to honor the thirtieth anniversary of the Nautilus Club was held Tuesday evening at the home of the popular member, Mrs. Carrie Small. At 6.30 the members were invited to the dining room which was beautifully decorated with Nautilus pink and potted plants, while on the tables were pretty and amusing valentines for supper favors.

No less acceptable to the hungry and appreciative company was the bountiful repast of

Creamed Tomato Bouillion
Dinner Rolls	Salted Wafers
Roast Chicken
Mashed Potatoes	Creamed Carrots
Pickles
Pineapple Salad
Lemon Sherbet	Cakes
Fancy Candies	Coffee.

After supper came the evening program of entertainment with singing, instrumental music and humorous readings in which all the members present participated in turn. Then games were played. At a late hour, after voting the occasion one of the most enjoyable and deserving of being remembered in the history of the club, the ladies dispersed to their homes.

A Rummage Sale will be held in the Nautilus Club Room on the mornings and afternoons of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, beginning June 1st.

Side Notes on the Celebration.

The days of the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Provincetown so beautifully celebrated in Provincetown, Aug. 26 to Sept. 1st is now but a memory. The active months of preparation on the part of the men and women and children of Provincetown culminated in days of rare pleasure for the thousands who were permitted to participate, who came from all parts of the country and who were impressed with what they saw and heard.

History was written these days. History not alone for the Pilgrims but for Provincetown and old Cape Cod. A milestone along our path of progress has been placed.

Long, long years after everyone who was present or who had some part in the extensive program shall have passed away, what was said, what was done, will live, will be referred to, will light the path of progress to larger things. Provincetown is richer by reasons of these days, by reason of these events.

To those who had little part in the arrangements that were made but whose hearts were deep in all that was planned, the celebration has left a deep impression.

Wasn't it fine to have been present and catch the inspiration of the event, to hear the great addresses and see representative men and to touch elbows with the thousands of people.

It is impossible to estimate the hours it took to plan and carry out the celebration. Committees gave unstintingly of their personality, citizens opened wide their home, and others showed their broadness of their nature in other ways.

Nature was very kind to Provincetown those celebration days. Rare indeed has finer weather been seen here. The days were days of joy because the air was clear and cool. The evenings, how is it possible to describe them? Seldom has the harbor looked more beautiful. The ships riding at anchor and as dusk turned to dark veritable floating fairylike palaces of light. The moon rising each evening, just a little larger from out the sea as the sun sank to rest behind the glorified western hills, the deep rich blue of the harbor at times without a ripple, pictures that will never be forgotten by the hundreds of strangers within our gates.

The addresses were important both historically as well as literary productions.

The churches were opened all the week, day and night.

It was fine of the Cape towns and Plymouth to add their presence.

It was impressive to see and hear many who visited the churches again and again, set in the pews in silent admiration. They lingered to look at the communion service of the forefathers of 1714, the baptismal font used by them, the sacred bible of that date, the first library in America; all appeared beautiful to them and numerous other things.

The Information Booth was a very busy place, which kept the committee busy all the time.

One saw many former residents who came purposely for the celebration. It was refreshing to meet them and to hear their kindly greetings and expressed love for dear old Provincetown.

The receptions at the homes of Dr. Mottet, Artists Charles W. Hawthorne and George Elmer Browne, the dinners at the homes of Wm. H. Young, Joshua Paine, Mrs. Wm. Matheson and others were splendid climaxes to the days and delightful occasions.

✦ Visitors were very complimentary to the Nautilus Club who gave generous hospitality. ✦

The police rendered efficient service.

The fire department was ready for any emergency.

The evidence of people's interest was shown in the decorations displayed. Never was the town more beautifully decked out in flags and bunting.

The extra electric lighting in homes, business places and wharves was a fine thing to do.

The Boston press certainly did wonders for Provincetown and the work was finest journalism, complete reports and photographs every day were very accurate.

The "movie" photographers from Fox and Pathe were right on their job.

It is idle to attempt to describe the pageant parade. It was splendid and admirably carried out.

The dances were pleasing features and the military ball inspiring.

The great meeting on the hill, the Sunday services with strong sermons.

The fireworks, the ships illuminations each night.

One was loth to leave any part of the celebration.

More than a word of praise is due those, who had the planning and the carrying on of the celebration, to each and every one this praise is due. All did their part and did it well and by enormous cooperation made success larger. Again and again will it be said it was a great celebration, planned in a big way and splendidly carried

On Monday evening, Oct. 11th, the Nautilus Club held its first meeting of the season in the Club room. Following a co-operative tea and business meeting, Miss Waite of Ithaca, N. Y. in a very interesting manner told of her experiences as a Red Cross hut decorator in France during the late war. It was a pleasure to listen to Miss Waite and learn of the great usefulness these women decorators did for the "boys", during the war.

The club will undoubtedly receive much enjoyment from tentative plans in social activity this season upon which they so pleasantly embarked this week.

The Nautilus Club with few invited friends will attend the 29th annual meeting or convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs on Wednesday at Plymouth. The convention opens Tuesday and closes Thursday night. A record attendance is certain. Early hotels and private houses have been engaged by hundreds of delegates from all parts of the state. It is expected to be the biggest meeting in the history of the federation. The annual election of state officers will be one of the activities. Interest centres about the speaker for the Wednesday night session, Sir Paul Dukes, renowned English journalist, author and traveler in his remarkable lecture, "Secret Service in Red Russia." A reception by the Plymouth Woman's Club and Clark's orchestra. The Nautilus Club will be represented by 25 women.

Miss Ina May Small, bride to be, was given a "shower" Monday evening by the Nautilus Club, of which she is a devoted member. It is the custom of the club to meet Monday evenings, and after routine business have an interesting program.

Mrs. Curley and Mrs. Healey were hostesses for the club this week and the "shower" was held up to the club and developed into a happy surprise for Miss Small who is popular, has hosts of friends and has been an active worker in the club.

To make Miss Small's presence doubly sure she was on the program for a piano solo. The club members turned out in force. The program over a game was suggested that would necessitate a march. Miss Hudson presided at the piano and when the march started played "Here comes the Bride" from Lohengrin. The special march being over Mrs. Curley and Mrs. Healey swung wide the portieres to the dining apartment. A beautifully decorated apartment it was. The table was bewitching in its rose hue. Pink was the color scheme, daybreak shade of crepe paper was fascinatingly arranged in streamer effect and loops and bows. The electrics with pretty pink shades cast a harmonizing effect over all. Floral decorations were of pink chrysanthemums and were particularly charming.

The table was bountifully laden with a tempting array of food. In the center of which was a monster wedding cake, fancifully decorated in pink and white. It was a clever piece of work. A huge round band-box covered with plaster paris and modelled after the style of a real baker's wedding cake was the cynosure of all eyes. After the luncheon conventions were over Mrs. Curley made a particularly charming speech directed to Miss Small and "cut the cake" by removing the cover and presented in behalf of the Nautilus Club the "shower" of gifts from within the "cake." For a time Miss Small could not speak the set phrase, but it came in due time. Individual cakes were served with the love motto hearts on each. Miss Small took pleasure in undoing the packages and showing them to the members and reading name of donors. We are sure it was an evening never to be forgotten by the club members.

Nautilus Club members and guests came out Monday night in the inclement weather primarily to listen to the comparison of the two parties, Democratic and Republican. Rev. J. E. Montgomery carefully and in no way prejudiced, gave the ideals for which each party stood, giving both sides fair consideration. Practical lessons on the benefits of having more than one party in the workings of administrative affairs of the country was advocated. Such would clear the atmosphere on many conditions. The great ideal of parties was to have the party in power that would remedy evil, social and industrial conditions. Too much time is spent antagonizing each others party. Party principles for the best working of the government was the idea. Mr. Montgomery gave a careful study of parties without intending to give preference. One had to shape politics to their own ideals.

After the talk of 30 minutes an opportunity was given the women to ask questions and there were several asked. We believe every woman present was a registered voter and absorbed the instructive talk intelligently. A collation was served at the close.

The Nautilus Club entertained its members at the regular meeting on Monday evening. The expansion wave of Christmas happiness and good cheer still held sway over Monday and renewal of Christmas joys was found in the program full of yuletide festivity. The club room was appropriately and prettily trimmed. Christmas tree and Santa Claus which so thrill the little folks and are primarily for them served as great merry makers for the grownups on this occasion. A program of carols and legendary stories was enjoyed after which the club gave itself up to good cheer and fellowship. The boughs of the Christmas tree looked gay with the gifts and jokes (the points of which were not difficult to see) and with Miss MacIntyre as jolly old Santa standing near the tree delving over its mysteries and proclaiming the names, merriment reigned supreme. An attending joy was the refreshments daintily served.

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held in the club rooms January 10th. The regular business and work was treated in the usual way after which a paper on "Holland", the characteristics, the oddity and beauty of this land of the windmills delighted the members present.

The Nautilus Club contributed $10 to the Hoover Fund for starving children of Europe this week.

The Nautilus Club held its annual business meeting May 9th. Reports were read, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. Carrie Small.

Vice Pres — Harriet Johnson.

Recording Secretary—Evelyn Nickerson.

Corresponding Secretary — Alice Stiff.

Treasurer—Isabelle Benson.

An invitation was received by the Club from the Brewster Woman's Club for a lecture and entertainment on May 19th and it was arranged for a delegation to attend.

The last regular meeting of the Nautilus Club for the year was held May 23rd.

A good deal of enthusiasm was exhibited by those who attended the Brewster meeting; and a discussion came up about the advisability of enlarging the membership

Arrangements were made to attend the Plymouth Convention of Federated Women's Clubs on May 20th.

Nautilus Club Reception

At the regular meeting of the Nautilus Club Monday evening after the regular meeting which was one of the Club's "Current Event" nights, a party or reception was given in honor of the bride, Mrs. Clarence M. Snow. Mrs. C. E. Nickerson was hostess for the evening. It was a popular evening with the club for two reasons one because Mrs. Snow has always found favor with the club members and secondly a reception to a bride member does not happen with any frequency. The members came out in full and each did her part to make the evening an attractive one.

The club home was artistically and appropriately decorated, all symbols of good luck, bride roses, wedding bells gave suggestiveness to the occasion.

After a musical program of vocal and instrumental music in which were solos by Mrs. Isabel Benson, Miss Florence Hudson and followed by a literary selection all appropriate to the affair by Mrs. C. E. Nickerson, Mrs. Jennie Healey arose and in the following original rhyme presented to Mrs. Snow a very beautiful mahogany serving tray effectively inlaid with pearl, in behalf of the club members.

Dear Club members all, so loyal and fine,

We have met here to-night to have a good time

And to show our esteem for our newly-wed member

Who has ever been ready her service to render.

She has given us music from hands and from lips

Helped our Cabaret shows and painted war ships

Has made chocolate cake for many cake sales

And, so far as we know, she never once fails.

She's a member worth while, we all will agree,

Were that all were as zealous and faithful as she,

And willing to do all they could, nothing less

Then our club sure would be a success.

She joined our dear club in its 6th prosperous year

And her interest and work have been so sincere

That we feel we would show our esteem here tonight

In the shape of a gift, which we hope will delight.

It was ever a marvel because she was Small

Not in statue, merely in name, that is all.

But during this year she stumbled on Snow

And will never be Small again we all do know.

Dear Ina, By this time you sure must know

That it's you upon whom we these honors bestow

For you've always been keen and brim full of wit

And in this case, you certainly don't need a bit.

Will you please accept this gift from us all

And, when using it, ever be led to recall

That its intrinsic value lies wholly in fact

That our love and best wishes have prompted this act.

We hope it will please you and useful be

When we all call around for afternoon tea

And when it is used in whatsoever phase,

'Twill recall pleasant memories of happy days.

As you start on life's journey upon this new road

With a heart that is true and love as your goad

May the Club blessings follow where'er your steps trend

Jennie C. Healey.

Mrs. Snow was deeply touched by the compliment bestowed and with pride and pleasure expressed her grateful thanks in words that showed nothing was necessary to increase the prestige of the club in her heart. An hour of sociability and delectable viands were served, after a shower of wishes for happiness to the bride were bestowed. It was a joyful occasion speaking for all.

One of the always enjoyable social occasions of the Nautilus Club, the celebration of its 14th anniversary took place at the new residence of Mrs. Zilpha Lovell Matheson, on Brewster St., Monday evening, 15th, twenty two members being present.

The reception and entertainment committee were Mrs. Matheson, Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Snow and Mrs. Wolfe.

The affair was one of the most elaborate of the club.

For 14 years this energetic and faithful club of civic workers have flourished successfully in community welfare and have assisted in many other efforts for the advancement of worth while causes.

An enjoyable supper was served at the daintily prepared table, consisting of fruit cocktails, jellied chicken, salads, string beans, spaghetti and tomatoes, olives, assorted cake, harlequin ice cream in three shades of

The 15th anniversary of the Nautilus Club was celebrated by a special supper at the Club rooms. The table was very prettily decorated with hearts and other things suitable for St. Valentine's Day. A delicious supper was served by the hostesses, Miss Hannah Holway, Mrs. Cora Davis, and Miss Katharine McIntyre.

After supper games were played until 10 o'clock. The members then dispersed after a delightful and long-to-be remembered evening.

pink and a huge birthday cake that was a work of art. The dining room was beautifully arranged in the club colors, rose pink and silver tinsel artistically entwined from the semi-direct dome to suggestive places and artistically draped about the table. Its effect was charming. The centerpiece was a huge pink rose, twelve inches in diameter exquisite in its beauty. Streamers of pink ribbons from the lights to each place, each of which was drawn in turn and a rhyme read that was a "hit" on some member. This proved a most mirthful period. The club poetess touched on profession, fad or foible of each one present in exceedingly happy fashion.

When the fire burned low on this form of entertainment there were others equally clever. The last on the number were "cigarette" conundrums, tightly rolled and sealed with a gold heart. Not threadbare conundrums but fertile minds suggested original ones and guessers found the answers were in names of members brought forth exclamations of delight and created a great deal of amusement. The 14th birthday celebration was a blue ribbon one.

On Friday afternoon, May 12th, between the hours of three and five o'clock the home of Mrs. Zilpha Matheson was the scene of a very pleasant party. The occasion was a "shower" by the members of the Nautilus Club to Miss Norine Doane, a former member and prospective bride. Sociability occupied an hour or so when suddenly the word "Hush" was heard and strains of music came from the Victrola. Slowly into view came a wedding couple accompanied by a dignified and proper personage who proceeded to perform a mock marriage ceremony which had been composed by one of the talented friends of the Club. Roars of laughter, which it was impossible to control, burst from the members. After ceremony was concluded Miss Doane was presented with a "shower" of recipes from the several members which of course she will closely follow and so endear herself more than ever to her future spouse. Afternoon tea was served and with it varied kinds of delicious sandwiches, cakes and candy. At five all went to their respective homes having heartily enjoyed the "shower."

The Nautilus Club was invited by Mrs. Snow, to spend the evening of April 27 th. at her home . A very delightful evening was spent , playing games: etc. followed by delicious refreshments

Nautilus Club Notes for November

On Nov. 14th a patriotic meeting was held with Mrs. Zilpha Matheson as hostess. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

Monday, Nov 28th, the members of the Nautilus Club met in Clubroom. After the usual routine of business a very interesting program was given by Miss Mertie Kelley and Miss Florence Hudson. The first part consisted of readings by different members about some of the plays before the public. Miss Hudson sang "Learn to Smile" from The O'Brien Girl, which delighted everyone.

Miss Kelley then read the story of the opera Robin Hood illustrated by music from the score by Mrs. Ina Snow. This too was very delightful —altogether a well spent evening.

The annual Christmas party of the Nautilus Club was held Tuesday night, Dec. 27th. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Harriet M. Johnson and Mrs. Ina Snow. The room was prettily decorated with pine, bluebirds and other things appropriate to the occasion. Stories were told, games played and songs sung, after which refreshments were served. Everyone went home feeling that they had passed a delightful evening.

MASS. STATE FED. of WOMAN'S CLUBS

DELEGATE

ANNUAL MEETING
NEW BEDFORD, MASS.

MAY 23, 24, 25, 1922

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held Monday evening, December 12th, with Miss Louise Paine and Mrs. Florence Stalker as hostesses. When the business of the meeting was attended to, Mrs. Stalker read a very interesting paper on American Music, noting the progress made in that art from the time of the psalm singing Pilgrims until the present day. By request of the Mass. State Federation of Women's Clubs the following resolve is published:

The Nautilus Club

There was a large attendance at the Nautilus Club rooms, Monday evening. It was guest night and more than fourscore members and friends enjoyed the inspiring program of the evening. Mrs. Mary Stull MacIntyre in well chosen words welcomed all and announced the program numbers in an introductory way. Part first was musical and the following musicians pleased all with splendid renderings. Piano solo—Mrs. Ina Snow Vocal selections—Mrs. Marguerite Morawski-LeBonte. Violin selections—Mr. Charles Stowe. Accompanists were Mrs. Snow, Mrs. Patterson, and Miss Gibbs. Mrs. MacIntyre then presented the speaker of the evening, Rev. Sarah A. Dixon of the Federated Churches, Hyannis, as being no stranger to Cape Cod for she was born in Barnstable, taught school in Brewster and is doing Christian work in the ministry of churches on the Cape. The greetings given the speaker accorded a testimony to her popularity. In the beginning the speaker presented some vivid intimate pictures of life on the Cape and her former visits to Provincetown.

She gave a most inspiring address lasting an hour on "The Problems of Cape Cod." She spoke of the Cape as a unit, told of problems confronting and suggestions concerning how all should reconcentrate themselves to the task of making it the best place in the world to live. She spoke at length on the natural beauties, the wonderful 200 miles of coast line, the beaches standing 4th in the finest of the world, giving the reasons, the 277 fine ponds, the wonderful dunes, picturesque woodlands, and the "Four Salt Seas" it faces; Massachusetts Bay, Vineyard Sound, Buzzards Bay and the Atlantic Ocean. Nature has blessed Cape Cod and it has growing characteristics. It was upon these growing characteristics that she spoke so earnestly. She spoke of how much the summer people coming to our shores building beautiful homes or remodelling the old homestead had done to beautify and make bright spots. The artists who have come with their artistic ideas and forwarded things under their sense of the artistic, but that it was up to the citizens to get at the root of other things that must be remedied. She spoke of the R. R. stations, inside and out, as being filthy places, the questionable dance halls and other places of low ideal. She dwelt on the social, religious and political conditions and from her criticism we felt it no time to sit at ease but time to be up and doing or later to pay for our neglect.

We must clean up the sorry messes by having good community houses in every community. The only hope was to instill into the hearts of the young people dreams and ideals of a Cape Cod all will grow to love more and more. That will help right the wrongs. She believed the town officials in each town should see that the hundreds of laws enacted were enforced, and that the money advanced for the suppression of crime be actually spent. The church cannot do all the work, there is more that the towns should do. To get at the root of things we must work with the young. Everyday people are realizing more and more that the future strength for good or evil lies with the youth of today. That they must have the best environments, a wall of all that is good and wholesome in the dances and film attractions should be built for them. She looked back on the days when travel was not so easy, when the young women entertained their gentlemen friends in the parlor at home, now they met and spent the evening miles away from home but returning before morning. It was a new generation, a new era of things, and there must be modern ways of reform. We have the right to expect the best of our young. In closing she urged all to pay more attention to our young people. It is they who will arise in the times of crises of the social, religious and political needs to make a new world and to answer His own prayer "Thy Kingdom Come."

The address was given in an earnest informal manner and was heartily enjoyed by the gathering. The Nautilus Club is to be congratulated on so pleasant and profitable an evening.

The Nautilus Club of Provincetown, one of the more than 200 federated clubs of Massachusetts was hostess for the federated club women of the Cape Tuesday afternoon with the state president, Mrs. George Minot Baker, the special guest of honor. The entertaining was done at the headquarters of club and about fourscore members and their friends were present.

We wish we had the space to give in detail the richness of the afternoon's pleasure and to tell the many excellent thoughts expressed in the address of Mrs. Baker but we have not.

Not under "crystal chandeliers" was the entertaining done but under a hanging garden of vines, ferns, greenery and flowers with banks of plants in appropriate places that permeated the atmosphere with sweetness and springtime. Looking out beyond the scarlet blossoms of the geraniums to the beautiful tints of the harbor was fully as delightful and fascinating as being under chandeliers of exquisite beauty thought Mrs. Baker to whom the view was a charming innovation from any other club she had ever visited and she has visited them all in Massachusetts.

The reception committee cordially received. At 3 o'clock a fine musical program was rendered. Mr. Charles S. Stowe executed two selections in his splendid and skillful manner, Miss Gibbs accompanying him. Mrs. Marguerite LaBonty rendered two soprano solos in her usual attractive manner, Mrs. Josephine Patterson accompanying her. Mr. Arthur Bickers gave two humorous selections cleverly, furnishing much amusement.

Mrs. Carrie Small, the Club's president, then presented Mrs. Baker who gave herself over to the club for about three quarters of an hour in a most entertaining manner, narrating the things of vital human interest of the great work of federated club women all over the country. Mrs. Baker is an easy graceful speaker with a spark of humor and kept her audience inspired.

Following the address was a Reception and a delightful hour was spent in sociability. The ladies of the club served a delicious collation.

We must say for the Nautilus Club that for executive ability, and genius for getting people together, the splendor of decorations, with wisdom, good things to eat and beauty to see they possess the tact and talent to a marked degree.

The Home Economics Department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs have formally disapproved of the present practice of spiking celery, quite generally used among our growers and market men.

The resolve has been adopted reading as follows:

Whereas the Home Economics Department of the Mass. State Federation of Women's Clubs looks with disfavor upon any practice which needlessly destroys and wastes food, and

Whereas the present custom of spiking celery has been found upon investigation to injure the food value of that commodity,

Therefore, Be it resolved that this body disapproves of the above mentioned practice of spiking celery and will lend its assistance to effect a change in the present custom, which it believes not only a waste but an injury to the local celery industry.

The first regular meeting of the Nautilus Club for the month of May was held in the club room on Monday evening. The ordinary business was transacted and followed by the several reports of the retiring officers. The new officers for the club year of 1922-23 were duly elected and the list stands as follows:

President—Mrs. Harriet M. Johnson

Vice President—Mrs. Evelyn F. Nickerson.

Rec. Sec.—Mrs. Edith M. Wolff.

Cor. Sec.—Miss Mertie C. Kelley.

Treas.—Mrs. Ina Snow.

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held at the clubroom on Monday evening with a goodly number present. After the business was transacted the program of the evening was presented by Miss Katherine MacIntyre in an able and pleasing manner. The subject was "British Control in India". The session closed with the club song, "America, the Beautiful". A collation was served and a social hour was enjoyed.

The Nautilus Club enjoyed its 16th birthday anniversary with party at the "Blue Lattice" on February 13th. The attractive viands and the social companionship were conspicuous features of the anniversary and was another of their successes.

Mrs. Van Biene delicately, daintily and palatably prepared the menu.

A large birthday cake with 16 lighted tapers was the central table decoration.

Provincetown is asked, through the Nautilus club to contribute its share of the 100,000 volumes which are needed for shipment at the port of Boston. The appeal comes at a time when "Spring cleaning" should make it possible for readers to turn over for this purpose many volumes which have been read with enjoyment, and which may serve further usefulness.

The association hopes to give "to men who have least opportunity for self cultivation and recreation books which roughly form three classes, Fiction, best sellers and standard authors; history, travel and biography and works on navigation and marine engineering, of special interest to men who are trying to fit themselves for promotion".

The local public library will be glad to receive, during this week books and magazines which may be used for this service. Material will be forwarded at a later date for the use of American seamen.

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held on Monday evening of this week. The usual business was transacted and the members were pleased to learn from "Federation Topic" that the name of the Club was placed on the honor roll of the Federated Clubs as having stood one hundred per cent for registration.

The program was presented by Mrs. Clio R. Curey and Mrs. Nettie F. Collins. It consisted of a resume of two chapters in the book which the members are reviewing followed by games and songs appropriate to St. Patrick's Day.

A collation of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. The evening proved an enjoyable one to all.

The usual meeting of the Nautilus Club was held at the clubroom on Monday evening when several matters of special importance were presented to the members for discussion and action. The session was preceded by a delicious and well served supper to the members and their guests. Forty nine were present. Much credit is due the committee: Mrs. Ina Snow, Mrs. Zilpha Matheson and Mrs. Cora Davis. The menu follows

Escalloped potatoes	Waldorf salad
Rolls	Coffee
Caramel pudding	Assorted cake.

The first regular meeting of the Nautilus Club for April was held at the club room on Monday evening of this week. A Dutch supper was served at 6 o'clock by Mrs. Zilpha Matheson, Mrs. Isabelle Benson, Mrs. Harriet Scudder and Mrs. Evelyn Nickerson. The business meeting was one of much interest to all. It was followed by the program of the evening which consisted of a paper entitled "France in Asia" and selected paragraphs from the chapter on "The Portuguese and Dutch in Asia" in the book, "The New Map of Asia". Many interesting and instructive "Current Events" were read. Miss Mertie Kelley was the hostess of the evening.

The members of the Nautilus Club will hold a cake sale at the store of Mr. Louis M. Snow on Friday afternoon, June 16, at 2.30 o'clock.

The Nautilus Club held their regular meeting at their club room Monday evening, April 24th, 1923. Plans were made for the next year's program. Miss Holway, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Healey and Miss Paine gave an interesting account of the convention of Women's Clubs held at Hyannis and the President's Convention at Barnstable. Mrs. Harriet Johnson presenting the Club. Mrs. Raymond Hopkins, a former president of the Nautilus Club, was a charming hostess and president of the Barnstable Club.

Nautilus Club

The following delegates of the Nautilus Club, Miss Hannah Holway, Mrs. Annie Young, Miss Louise C. Paine, Mrs. Jennie Healey and Mrs. Alice Stiff attended the Cape Convention of Federated Clubs, April 10th, at Hyannis. The Convention was held in the Hyannis Women's Club room and was helpful and enjoyable throughout. The addresses and problems of Club work were greatly appreciated as were the trips and entertainments provided for the guests. The Cape clubs were well represented. The delegates came home enthusiastic over the activities discussed and formulated and no doubt the local club will receive a "boost" from this pilgrimage to meet other active club women.

Again on Monday, April 23rd, a convention of Presidents and Secretaries of the Cape Clubs was held in Barnstable. Mrs. Elizabeth Hopkins, president of the Woman's Club, formerly a favorite president of the Nautilus Club, Provincetown, gave the welcome in a gracious speech.

At 1 A. M. District Director Mrs. Andrews of New Bedford addressed the members. Eight of the twelve clubs on the Cape were represented.

The convention was filled with good things and the delegates listened with rapt interest and desire to learn of the problems vitally affecting and needing the attention of the women of to-day to solve, remedy, and to make the women's clubs fill a very definite and necessary part in community life.

Luncheon was served at the Barnstable Inn. At recess by-trips and entertainment were planned by the hostess club showing interesting parts of Barnstable and added to the pleasure of the convention. The two days of convention were well spent. The broader viewpoint gained of social and intellectual problems will be communicated to the clubs along the Cape.

Mrs. Healey, Miss Paine, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Harriet Johnson attended the convention at Barnstable from the local club.

Nautilus Club

Monday evening, March 24th, was a very enjoyable occasion for the members of the Nautilus Club. After the business meeting and the initiation of two new members "A Miscellaneous Shower" was given for Miss Florence Hudson, one of its oldest and highly esteemed members.

It was about nine o'clock when with fear and trembling she answered a summons at the outside door of the club room, which proved to be the postman with a huge parcel post package. As she returned to the room laden with the cumbersome bundle, the club orchestra tuned in with Lohengrin's Wedding March which caused the maiden to blush deeply and realize for the first time that she was the object of this joyous occasion. Many and varied were the articles brought forth from the package, some in the form of jokes and others very pretty and useful.

A fine luncheon was served which consisted of fruit gelatine salad, salted crackers, cake, coffee and bonbons in individual fancy cases. Merriment prevailed until a late hour when the company dispersed with congratulations and sincere good wishes, wondering who would be the next victim.

Miss Louise C. Paine and Mrs. Jennie Healey were attendants at the State Federation Convention of Woman's Clubs at Swampscott. They brought home reports of a most wonderful convention and many progressive plans for all work are sure to come from their interesting accounts. It was hoped that a large number would have attended from the local club for the splendid enthusiasm of thousands of loyal women, ringing speeches, events, programs and matters long dreamed and smiled over, live so long in the memory and are readily recalled as time passes on.

WITH THE DISTRICTS

BY THEIR DIRECTORS

First

Welcome to our new comer, The Woman's Club of Bourne. Nautilus Club of Provincetown held a delightful Presidents' Day with the State President as its guest of honor. Hyannis Woman's Club gave a $5.00 social lately when its members told in song and story how each earned her "fiver."

A cooperative supper was held by the Nautilus club before the regular meeting March 11th. A good supper and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. C. E. Nickerson and Mrs. Alice Stiff were the hostesses for the evening.

Nautilus Club.

The Nautilus Club enjoyed another of their social good times last week. Coming out of the snow, their hall room brilliantly lighted and warm with its cosy decorations gave forth a feeling of cheer that made all forget that winter was just outside. A cooperative supper was served by the Hospitality Committee. The tables presented a pretty picture heavily laden with delicious viands. The evening meal was fittingly appreciated.

The meeting of the club followed. It was devoted to new by laws and other general business. As it was to be an "open" night the meeting was closed at eight o'clock. Invited friends came in goodly numbers to listen to an address by Stephen Marsh in which he explained the "One Man Manager Plan" in other localities so successfully carried on. He very ably presented the subject and the listeners profited. Mr. Marsh has an excellent speaking voice, effective delivery and was all inclusive in his practical solutions and helpful suggestions.

Mr. Marsh was responsible for a very attractive evening, and at this time awakened a new interest in things of civic importance. At the conclusion all present expressed their pleasure and the wish and request that he should serve the town in an official capacity was heartily given him.

The Nautilus Club celebrated its 18th birthday anniversary Tuesday evening Feb. 17th. Although the social calendar is filled with dates of a nature which are sure to please all those socially inclined, the attendance at the club was large.

The festivities began with a most delectable chicken supper under the supervision of Mrs. Minnie Eastman, Mrs. Harriet Johnson, Mrs. Etta Atkins, Misses MacMurray, Burch, Mrs. Hiebert. From "soup to nuts" it was delicious.

The tables were very attractive with the fine linen, china, lighted pink tapers, place cards and favors, ferns and carnations. The menu follows:

- Cream soup
- Roast chicken, with dressing
- Creamed potatoes, gravy
- Cranberry jelly
- Corn fritters with sauce
- Peas, Stuffed Olives, Rolls
- Fruit salad
- Ice cream with chocolate sauce
- Sponge cake, Coffee
- Nuts, Mints

A program of musical and literary selections followed with sociability and amusing games. An efficient committee kept all in a merry mood. A fine social time such as has been the unvarying high type characteristic of woman's clubs contributed to a very charming birthday party.

Mrs. Harriet Scudder gave selections on the violin, Mrs. Isabel Benson rendered vocal selections "Wishes" and "Dawn". Mrs. Catherine Manuel and Mrs. Mattie Lewis gave literary selections, all interesting with their natural ability. The home of the club was effectively decorated for the occasion in the club color, shell pink; the ensemble was beautiful.

At the close of the festivities the "birthday cake" with its eighteen lighted tapers was cut by the president, Miss Katherine MacIntyre. An attractive feature of the entertainment was the reading by Miss Nina Williams of the "scrap book" selections which embraced the newspaper clippings of the club's doings in 1924. The party broke up at a late hour.

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held Monday evening, March 23rd, in the club room. After the usual business meeting, a splendid program was given by the committee on music.

- Mrs. Scudder—Violin
- Mrs. Benson—Pianist
- Mrs. Snow—Reader and Pianist

The program consisted of the exemplification of folk songs and other music, typical of the best known nations. Short sketches of the history of this music were read by Mrs. Snow and Mrs. Scudder.

Oh, whether it be Cairo or Paris or in Rome,

There's nothing quite so fair to see
As a friend you've known at home.
A friend who knows your first name
And all our people, too,
Will set your pulse beating
As nothing else can do.

pier at 7:30 Monday evening for a trip to Good Timeville. Fifty passengers, home friends, embarked on a round trip ticket (including meals) after the Commander General Miss Katherine B. MacIntyre closed the session of important business and put the passengers in the right mood

The Captain, Miss Hannah Holway, directed the passage to many ports, mates, Mrs. Emma P. Cook, Mrs.
Phillips and Mrs. Stalker, welfare agencies, who from long practice in general conditions, co-ordinated the maneuvers on ship board into a perfectly fine trip.

Artist Ambrose Webster joined the ship when the cruise was half over, and in a very delightful informal way, gave his trips abroad "from memoryville." It was very informative and certainly was delightful as well. His description of Paris, the Louvre with its five mile of pictures, and other places were clearly seen through the mind's eye. Vaunce was pleasing to learn about because here is where the bulk of the Provincetown painters live in the winter.

Vaunce is near Nice, it is on top of a high hill, and surrounded by a high wall. A wonderful place for students from many points. Mr.
Webster first told how to travel and what to avoid in travel and illustrated by stories of his own experiences that were very funny, after the fright had been taken from them. The expense of travel had much of interest.

For about an hour he entertained the passengers on the various trips "across the pond" after which he joined the circle and was kept busy answering questions which widened the knowledge of all, as he spoke very freely and with efficiency.

The sea conditions being good, all partook of delicious refreshments bountifully served. Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Scudder pleased with musical selections on violin and piano and it would have been better to have heard more of their melody but, "Port Your Helm!" came too soon. The cruise was over and a lusty cheer and rising vote was given the officers who so ably conducted the voyage, and the passengers stepped out on the gangway for home.

Apr. 27/25
Nautilus Club.

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held Monday evening, Miss MacIntyre presiding. Reports and many communications were acted upon. Mrs. Elizabeth K Hopkins, past president was made an Honorary member. It is expected that Mrs.
Hopkins sometime will give an account of her recent trip abroad. It is always delightful to hear what women are doing elsewhere, whether organized as clubs or church workers.
Not many of our members go so far afield.

Presidents Convention at Orleans and Mrs. Carrie Small the State Convention at Malden. Miss Paine reported with fresh enthusiasm and splendid ability for herself and also that contributed by Mrs. Small who could not be present. It gave much pleasure as she unfolded the work, the courtesies and ensemble impressions. It was received with hearty applause.

Miss MacIntyre read an entertaining article on English pottery. A new committee on ways and means was appointed consisting of Mrs.
Carrie Forest, Mrs. Lizzie Chapman and Mrs. Anna Young. Nominations for officers for the next club year were voted on, as follows:

President—Mrs. Alice Stiff
Secretary—Mrs. Emma P. Cook
Treasurer—Mrs. Emily Nickerson

The committee on committees and arrangements of programs for the coming year were Mrs. Ina Snow, Miss Nina Williams, Mrs. Cora Fuller, who it is hoped will make a year's program that will prove as interesting, instructive and worthy the continued membership of members and be an incentive to new ones as this has been. It certainly has been an entertaining year.

The guest and entertainer for the evening was very graciously presented by Mrs. Harriet M. Johnson, chairman of the evening on "Legislation". Mr. Wm. H. Young spoke on the Veterans Preference Bill and then read an article on "Obligations of Citizenship". It was a fine paper All the social, moral, sacred and political obligations were referred to under four points admirably, and concluded with the kind of government needed—what life is for—and how it should be lived. It was splendidly set forth and a large audience should have "listened in". It was a heavy but not dry subject. At its conclusion the club members showed their appreciation by a rising vote of thanks and hearty applause for Mr. Young's able presentation. The hospitality committee Mrs. Kendrick, Mrs. Davis,

Mrs. Forrest served delicious refreshments. They say it takes genius to set forth dainty cakes and sauces, delicious drinks each time, as varied delicious and attractive, and we hear it said too, that women meet together to discuss great moral and social problems—will listen to a powerful address and inspiring tales of achievements, and forget it all in a new cup of tea or a new cooking idea in the discussing of receipts. Well, isn't that better than having their ideas go up in smoke? But its not true. The interesting subjects rouse energy and devotion; are a "feast of reason and flow of Soul" and accompanied the real ideal for club elevation.

This evening was a happy occasion. The floral decoration was simple and attractive, the forsythia in its gorgeous yellow coloring was beautiful.

One of the best meetings of the season was that of Monday night—it was the last regular session of the season of the Nautilus Club and was well attended. Mrs. Alice Stiff, the new President; presided. Reports of committees, communications and resolutions were all of interest, after which the meeting was given over to Mrs. Jennie Healey who was chairman of the program. Mrs. John R. Manta accompanied by Miss Gibbs and Mr Stowe, rendered two selections delightfully, "Happy Days Gone By", and "Still Smile My Dear One". Mrs. Healey introduced Mrs. Harold Scott of the Woman's Club of Orleans who spoke on "Educational Child Study Work", helpfully, and Mrs. H. K. Cummings also of the Woman's Club, Orleans, who spoke on "Community Service Experiences". There was much that was interesting and instructive in the questions following. America, The Beautiful, the club song, was sung. A collation of sherbet and fancy crackers were served. The club room was decorated with a profusion of lilacs.

Nautilus Club.

After a successful summer vacation; replete with happy holidays and many interesting events members of the Nautilus Women's Club began to acclimate themselves to a busy winter season under the direction of its new president, Mrs. Alice Stiff.

A pleasant dinner party on the cooperative plan opened the season, under the direction of Mrs. C. S. Nickerson, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, and Mrs. Etta Atkins. A most excellent menu was enjoyed; the table decorations were effective and appropriate with late autumn flowers and foliage.

The regular meeting began at 8 o'clock by singing of the Club song "America The Beautiful"; Mrs. Benson at the piano. The opening meeting of the season found much of general interest in plans of work.

The Calendar and committees for the year will soon be issued. The subjects show a generous quota of good things in the winter's program. Beginning with the next meeting Oct. 29th, Mrs. Jennie Healey and Mrs. D. Hiebert will have charge of an all day affair.

Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball and two other speakers will stress the subject of Mothercraft and Child Welfare and give very definite helps. Mrs. Kimball is a charming speaker and the Club is fortunate in securing her. In the evening a Mothercraft film and illustrated lecture will be put on in the Provincetown Theater—free to all over twelve years.

A dinner will be served at the New Central House at noon. Anyone desiring to attend will let the committee know by Oct. 21. The public is cordially invited to all services of the day.

Oct. 26 Nautilus Club, 1925

Under the auspices of the Nautilus Club, Monday, Mothercraft Day was observed. The committee in charge; Mrs. Hiebert and Mrs. Healey. Speakers of International and States fame, spoke on the subjects of Mothercraft and Child Welfare.

The warmth of Woman's Club hospitality, a wonderful Autumn day, aided and abetted by a splendid program and the overflow meetings all had a part in bringing out the full benefit of the Club's calendar day in the interests of Mothercraft.

At 11 o'clock A. M. after the service of song Mrs. Hiebert, chairman of the day extended the club's greetings in well chosen words and introduced the speakers

Mrs. Mary Dickinson Kimball, founder of Mothercraft, was the first speaker of the day. She was followed by Mrs. Helen Wellington of the state department of Mothercraft, and Mrs. Jenkins, director of the campaign of Child Welfare, and Vice chairman of Mothercraft. All were delightfully interesting

One thing of particular interest was the fact told by Mrs. Kimball that Mothercraft had its first meeting in Provincetown some fourteen years ago when she was here in the interest of the Girl Scouts, under direction of Mrs. Harriet Paine and is another of those "first things" of which Provincetown is proud. Mothercraft is now international and in every country they are sending for the books entitled "Children Well and Happy," which is in some of the public schools of every state in the union and every country of the globe.

Luncheon was served to Club members and invited guests at the Central House at 12:30, after which

A sight seeing trip was made through the Museum and about town At 2:30 the program was carried out. The overflow meeting caused a moving over to the Caucus Hall, Town Hall. This, too, was filled to overflowing and standing room was also at a premium. Two hundred and sixty-five were present. The same speakers occupied the two hours with the choice musical selections of Mrs. John R. Manta. Miss Elmena Tobin and Helen O'Rork. At four o'clock the educational film "Mothercraft" presented at the Provincetown Theater This film was arranged at Hollywood by Mrs. Kimball and was helpful and pleasing.

Supt. Jerome Fogwell closed the schools a bit early, and the Theater so generously given over by Mr. Lewis to the Club for its community work, was filled to capacity. Supt. Fogwell also gave remarks and endorsed the work and pledged his interest.

Miss Jane Steele the District Nurse and Miss Prada the school nurse have expressed their willingness to teach mothercraft and the equipment will be furnished by the Nautilus Club.

Mothercraft is well established in the Home Economic schools, 7th grade pupils.

The Nautilus Club wish to thank everyone for the success of Mothercraft and Child Welfare Day, particularly to the speakers, Mrs. Manta for her several vocal selections Misses Tobin and O'Rork and to Mr. Lewis for the theater.

The club is grateful for the large number of Mothers who came in the interests of the girls of the coming generations.

There were delegations from Hyannis, Orleans and Chatham, interested in the trained intelligence of scientific principles in Mothercraft.

Nautilus Club.

There was a very pleasant gathering and interesting program at the Nautilus Club headquarters Monday evening. Nov. 9, 1925

Miss Nina Williams had charge of the program. The subject was "Education" The club song was sung, Mrs. Benson at the piano. The "Education Week" proclamation by President Calvin Coolidge was read by Miss Katherine B. MacIntyre. Vocal Solos "Song of the Thrush", Stibbins; "My Brown Rose", Gallo-way, were rendered by Mrs. Cora Fuller.

Miss Williams introduced the speaker of the evening, Principal Webster Hall of the P. H. S., in well chosen words, and Club members and invited friends accorded him a hearty greeting.

For an hour Mr. Hall gave a helpful instructive talk, a well delivered address replete with interesting assertions and inspiration on the subject basis of education touching on the World Court, England's internal problems, the French debts.

The United States problems, the Solution of General moral education, and emphasizing American Education week, from Nov. 16 to 22nd, and the subjects Monday, November 16, is Constitution Day. The Constitution "The greatest document ever written" Tuesday is "Patriotism Day" Patriotism not Jingoism.

Wednesday is "School and Teacher" Day.

The better the teacher the better the school.

Friday Know Your School Day.

"Progressive civilization depends upon progressive education."

Saturday Community and Health Day. Physical Education.

Sunday For God and Country Day

A Godly nation can not fail.

Visit your church to day.

Religion, morality and education are necessary for good government.

The clergy of all churches are urged to preach a sermon on Education.

Mr. Hall elaborated on the subjects of the days and extended an invitation to all to visit the schools during the week for prepared programs. Hearty applause and a standing vote attested the gratification and appreciation of the speaker.

A Social hour and refreshments concluded the special program.

"Education" evening was a complete success.

Nautilus Club.

These are busy days for everyone who prepares gifts for the yuletide and it had a marked effect on the attendance at the club Monday night. Mrs. Stiff presided, business was interesting and the different phases received due attention. The President's Message was read by Mrs. Clara Watson. The messages are always inspiring. At the conclusion of the business, the remainder of the evening was in charge of Mrs. Mattie Lewis, the chairman of the program. The subject of the evening was "Dramatics." Mrs. Lewis read an especially interesting paper on plays and playwrights and the value of the drama as a mirror to help us better to play our own part in it. Mrs. Lewis was assisted by the following members: Mrs. Isabel Benson rendered a vocal solo in pleasing voice;

Miss Gladys Nickerson gave a musical burlesque entitled "Her Debut"; Miss Nina Williams read one of Lady Gregory's plays and Mrs. Fuller read "When Mary Agnes Pretended".

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Harriet Johnson, Mrs. Clio Curley and Miss Jeanette MacMurray who served a novelty luncheon which was delicious. A social period was enjoyed and conferences of department committees closed an enjoyable session.

Jan 11 Nautilus Club. 1925

The Woman's Club held its regular meeting Monday evening at their headquarters and it was well attended. Business occupied much of the time. Mrs. Eastman took much pleasure in presenting a beautiful ebony gavel, gold mounted, with the inscription, To The Nautilus Club from Minnie A. Eastman. It was received with delight. The chairman for the evening was Mrs. Isabel Small Benson, subject "Music." Mrs. J. Greene entertained with two piano selections, 1st movement of Beethoven's Appassionata Sonata and Raindrop Prelude by Chopin. Mrs. Greene is a splendid musician and she certainly had many admirers in these worthwhile selections. Miss Ethel Lovely, teacher of music in the local public schools, gave an interesting talk on "Music Appreciation", pointing out clearly the visible signs of it in the impressions shown by pupils. It was very entertaining all the way through. Miss Lovely used a phonograph and records to illustrate. A solo by Mrs. Benson "I Hear A Thrush at Eve" was sweetly rendered. Miss Antoinette Dickinson accompanied her on the piano. The Chatauqua salute was given these artists in appreciation of their talented service.

The hostesses of the evening were Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Collins, and Mrs. Morris who served delicious refreshments. After a social period meeting adjourned with happy exchanges of a pleasant club night. 1926

The regular business meeting of the Nautilus Woman's Club was held in their rooms Monday night. At the meeting nearest Christmas it has been customary in past years to have a Christmas program and joke Christmas tree, and spend an hour in good natured fun. So after the business session, Christmas cheer and good fellowship reigned supreme at the annual Christmas party. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Clio Curley, Mrs. Harriet Johnson and Mrs. Alice Stiff. Glad some Christmas with its holly and evergreen, poinsettias, lights made brilliant by the red shades, all formed effective decorations. The participants on the musical and literary program were:

- Duet, Merry Christmas—Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Stiff.
- Reading, The Ringing of the Chimes—Miss Nina Williams
- Vocal Solo—Mrs. Isabel Benson.
- Reading "When Johnnie Entertained Aunt Martha after Christmas"—Mrs. Cora Fuller.

The novel part of the program was the distribution of gifts. Each one receiving a gift was obliged to address the gathering in speeches pertaining to their gifts, the impromptu verses proving fun galore. A delicious luncheon of salads and sandwiches, fruit punch, cakes and tea were served. A stocking filled with goodies and a conundrum was presented each one. The guessing of the conundrums inspired mirth. Altogether it was a bright evening.

Not contented with keeping all the joy and cheer themselves Christmas goodies were sent to shut-ins. The next meeting will be January 11th, Mrs. Isabel Benson, chairman of the evening, subject music.

Nautilus Club.

The Nautilus Club held its regular meeting Monday evening, Jan. 25th, preceded by a cooperative supper at 6 o'clock to which 24 members sat down to an appetizing repast under the direction of the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Davis. A delightfully social period was enjoyed by each and everyone.

Jan. 25, 1926

Feb 11 Nautilus Club 1926

The Nautilus Club celebrated its 19th Anniversary at the home of Mrs. Mary Morton, corner Johnson and Commercial St., at 6:30 o'clock Thursday eve, where a delicious chicken pie supper was served and a most delightful evening spent.

The cozy rooms so tastefully arranged, the color scheme blending most artistically gave added beauty to the table so prettily decorated. At each place was a pink basket containing nuts and mints with twisted handle and a bursting rose bud at the top, also a tiny fudge plant.

The Anniversary cake was appropriately decorated and marked and 19 pink candles carried out the Club color and age. The menu was:

Asparagus Soup
Chicken Pie
Mashed Turnip Mashed Potatoes
Fruit Salad
Ice Cream Cake
Nuts and Mints

After dinner each one read the "Tongue Twists" which was on the back of the place card. This brought forth much merriment. After the President, Mrs. Alice Stiff, cut the cake and it was distributed to each member, a short program followed. Reading, two poems from Edgar Guest—Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis. Series of Conundrums—Mrs. Carrie Forrest. Reading, from the Scrap Book—Mrs. Jennie Healey. Reading—Miss Nina Williams, concluding with a short talk by Mrs. Minnie Eastman on her California trip which was delightfully portrayed with views from the various places visited. At the closing of the program games were played and we departed to our homes declaring this anniversary to be, with the others, another gala night in the Club's history.

Committee—Mrs. Carrie Forrest, Chairman, Mrs. Minnie Eastman, Mrs. Elsie Phillips.

Nautilus Club

A meeting of the Nautilus Club was held Monday evening, March 8th. After the regular routine of business Mrs. Carrie Small as hostess of the evening presented Mrs. Nancy Paine Smith who gave a very fine talk on Literature and also had read by the members three stories of her own composition. One of these stories entitled "The Lost Shoe" was based upon a child's handmade leather shoe found some years ago by carpenter Solomon Dyer Nickerson inside the walls of the old Seth Nickerson house when he was doing some repairing on this house which presumably, the oldest house in town. Mrs. Smith brought the shoe to the club that all might see it.

Mrs. Isabel Benson sang beautifully two selections "Roses of Picardy" and "Rose Marie". The club sang "America" with Mrs. Ina Small Snow at the piano.

Refreshments of ice cream and crackers were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Fogwell, Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Wolff and a most enjoyable evening it was to all present.

The regular business meeting held Monday evening, March 22nd, was followed by a delightful program under the direction of Miss Mertie C. Kelley who talked to the club on Public Health and gave much information on the valuable service of the School nurse, comparing the conditions of schools today and twenty years ago. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. John Manta, Piano solos by Mrs. Greene and several selections read by Mrs. Mary Sparrow. Hot coffee, doughnuts and cheese were served by the hospitality committee which closed another happy evening of the club.

The first meeting of the Nautilus Woman's Club was held on Monday night, Oct. 11th, at the headquarters, the new President Mrs. Minnie Eastman presiding. It was a delightful meeting in the spirit and social order and in the promising beginning of another successful Club year.

The calendar for the season 1926—7 is impressive with its topics and chairmen.

Clusters of brilliantly tinted fall flowers and foliage added color to the scene.

After routine and important business was transacted, the meeting was given over to Mrs. Alice Stiff, chairman of the evening program "Art and Travel."

Mr. Charles E. Stowe, violin, with Mrs. Stalker at the piano, rendered selections especially pleasing and were enthusiastically received.

Mrs. Stiff introduced, as the speaker of the evening, Mr. George Elmer Browne, who spoke on Art, on which subject he is eminently qualified, being one of the great artists of the world. Mr. Browne spoke without the assistance of pictures. Gave graphic word pictures of what art is and enlivened his talk with several humorous incidents with basic truths.

He stressed the following work of the Egyptian age--The Corinthian Column and King Tut; Modern Art, Cubist, Futurist; Dadas, Japanese, Afgan and Persian values; Commercial Art, Posters, "Moving Picture Background."—Spoke on "Art an Inspiration", "Painting a Process."

He gave the isms in art, Pot Boilers, Buck Eye, Subject of pictures, Money value, and speculation.

Comparison of appreciation of the artist abroad and in America.

At the regular meeting of the Nautilus club Monday evening, Oct. 25, a co-operative supper was served by the committee, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, Mrs. Carrie Forrest and Mrs. Etta Atkins, which was enjoyed by all. Important business and many problems were discussed.

The President gave a report of the State Federation meeting which she attended at Hyannis, which was very interesting.

On Nov. 8, Mrs. Heman Harding, our director for this district, will address the club.

Supt. of Schools Charles E. Harris was the speaker before the Nautilus Club at their recent meeting and the club is much indebted to him for an enlightening and interesting talk on "Education and Up To Date Methods". Club members anticipations were fully realized in his splendid message full of experiences and explanations of modern problems. Supt. Harris is well posted on educational matters and his view points and knowledge were worthy a large audience. His fine agreeable manner also attributed to a delightful evening.

Nautilus Club

The first meeting in the New Year for the Nautilus Club showed a large and interested attendance of members who held their hearts open to good things the new year has in store. After the business meeting President Minnie Eastman in conjunction with the Secretary and treasurer's reports and business actions taken, Mabel Day was made a member and other names desirous of membership came before the meeting which was reported on at a later meeting.

The meeting featured a party and each member who had earned the dollar, in her most happy told how she earned it. Dollars were added to the treasury social season with delicious refreshments prepared by the hostess committee, Mrs. Wolff, Mrs. Higgins, Mrs. Addie Dearb, Mrs. Isabel Benson.

The announcements of a whist party, and of an evening theatricals in the near future, some of the beginnings of the year which produced an effect. These will be shared public to the capacity of her room. Plans way ahead events come along space ing proved a delightful one usual case.

We thought, upon taking parture, of Mrs. Brownin said, "Light tomorrow with was it Mrs. Browning who Every morn is the world and we felt that the Na and bers had a great meas every heart needs to day, for each one lifts a one pulls a bit and each one cheers a bit and this can mean nothing else but a Happy New Year to them.

Nautilus Club

After the usual business meeting of the Nautilus Club on Monday evening at which, in the absence of the president Mrs. Eastman, Miss Hannah Holway presided, the members participated in an enjoyable Christmas party in their quarters. The party was featured by an exchange of g.f.s from a brilliantly illuminated Christmas Tree, a program of song and story and refreshments. The room beautifully decorated with red and green streamers festooned overhead pine boughs, poinsettias, and Christmas Tree giving the yuletide air. Solo carols were sung by Mrs. Stiff, Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Fuller. Readings were given by Mrs. Mattie Lewis, Mrs. Fuller, Miss Kate MacIntyre. Miss Dickinson was the accompanist for the evening. Caroling; the beloved hymns of old, still occupied a prominent place in the program and always will remain as sacred as in the days of old.

Mrs. Cora Davis, Mrs. Nettie Collins, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Etta Atkins were the hostesses of the occasion. Mrs. Comee, Mrs. McIntyre, Miss Paine, Mrs. Heale, Miss MacIntyre, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Benson, Miss Dickinson, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Kendrick, Mrs. Atkins, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Stiff, Miss Holway each gave delightful poetry on the gifts they received that enhanced the fun of the evening in their cleverness. "A Literary Luncheon" preceded a delicious collation of pineapple ice cream with cherry sauce, and assorted cake. The time was filled to overflowing and the occasion proved one of the delightful evenings of Club history.

The capacity of the Woman's Club headquarters was taxed to its utmost at its last regular meeting. It was Dramatic Night at the club. It had been heralded as an attractive evening and the program was all that was spoken of it and pleased the most fastidious. The evening was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis and she and the cast of entertainers should feel elated over the success of the venture. The program:

Duet—Thelma Benson and Barbara Wolff

Vocal Solo—Mrs. Isabel Benson
Bachelor's Dream, an entertainment in one scene, showing a lonely bachelor dreaming of the joys of matrimony. All the types of girlhood appear to him in a vision and from these he makes his choice.

The reader was Mrs. Lewis, the bachelor was Mr. Stiff, and Miss Dickinson, musician. Those appearing in the tableaux were:

Feb 15 Nautilus Club 1927

Twenty years ago a small band of women living in town founded the Nautilus Woman's Club on Feb. 15th, it has grown to a large club and today the members all feel how very dull life would be without the club. To enumerate all the achievements would fill a volume. It's not doing "one thing at a time" but three or four things at a time.

Anniversary dates are always Red Letter Days for the club and the celebration this year was enjoyed with the usual loyalty and zest of other years. A most delicious supper was served at the Winter Vernon and the members took occasion to make a presentation to Mrs. Edith Wolff who is leaving town in a few days to make her home in Grand Haven, Michigan, where Capt. Wolff has been promoted to Superintendent of the Coast Guard of the Great Lakes district. In well chosen words the president, Mrs. Eastman in behalf of the club presented her with a beautiful piece of cut glass. Mrs. Wolff responded touchingly.

The regular meeting at the Club headquarters later was followed by the birthday celebration program. The room was beautifully decorated and added to the festive occasion. From the lighting fixtures amid the soft glow of subdued reflection were the handsome shades of club colors shell pink and silver. Plants and cut flowers were placed at vantage points. A round table attractively set adorned the center of the room. A large birthday cake beautifully ornamented with 20 lighted pink candles, and two rows of suspended pink hearts decked the table, on each heart a club question was afterwards answered.

Nautilus Club 1927

On Monday evening the attractive quarters of the Nautilus Club were well filled with interested members. Mrs. Minnie Eastman presided over the deliberations in her usual gracious way. The membership, though limited, was augmented by a new member and two names were sent in to the membership committee for later reference.

After the business Mrs. William H. Healey and Mrs. Isabel Benson took charge of the program. It was Community Service night with Mrs. Healey chairman. Some splendidly prepared papers by directors of this work were read by Mrs. Healey. They were full of ideals and so wonderful to have worked out, but it did seem that one would have to work till doomsday to put them in practice. However, it is fine to know that these and similar problems are being worked out in all parts of the country by clubs of recognized ability in big centers. Mrs. Cora Fuller rendered a group of songs "She Stands There Waiting", a Spring song, "The Dear Little Goose", "The Second Miret" and "Family Traits".

The hospitality committee, comprising Mrs. Harriet M. Johnson, Mrs. Clio Curley and Miss Louise C. Paine served a delicious collation. It is always a joy and an honor to do for the club, the members are so appreciative and hearty in their congratulations. An hour of sociability closed the session.

The next meeting will be on March 28th. It will be an "Educational" night. Miss Nina Williams is the chairman. It is to be an open meeting. Mrs. Jack Greene will present a fine program. March 10

Nautilus Club

One of the attractive meetings of the Nautilus Club was that of Monday night. The usual ambitious program of business came, then the entrance to membership of two new members and the reception to them, the president Mrs. Eastman ably participating. Then came the very interesting program of the evening under the chairmanship of Miss Louise Paine who introduced Dr. Percival J. Eaton, the speaker of the evening on "Public Health". For an hour Dr. Eaton in his very capable way presented the subject entertainingly and helpfully. At the conclusion a question box was conducted. Questions came and were clearly answered by the doctor. The importance of such an address found appreciation in every listener and the meeting was spontaneous in its congratulations in having so fine a speaker as Dr. Eaton. Mrs. Cora Fuller rendered the solo, "A Barnegat Love Song", by Robinson. The hospitality committee Mrs. Emma Cook, Mrs. Mattie Lewis and Mrs. Evelyn Nickerson served refreshments and the hour of sociability slipped by all too fast. The room was attractively decorated with spring blossoms and blooming plants, provided by Mrs. Stiff and Mrs. Loring.

An inspiring meeting of the Nautilus Woman's Club was held Monday afternoon, April 25th, in their apartments. It was "President's Day" and that always calls out a large attendance. All that nature could furnish in the items of sunshine, colorful flowers, sea view, and an invigorating shore breeze was there for the ideal setting, liberally supplied. Capable hostesses, cordial members, attractive decorations and a fine program made the affair complete in every detail. The State President Mrs. Arthur D. Potter, the District Director Mrs. Heman Harding and many representatives from the Cape Clubs were present.

At precisely three o'clock all was in readiness. Mrs. Eastman, President of the local club, presided and enriched the services with a welcome and prayer. The club song, "America, The Beautiful", was heartily rendered and the Allegiance to the Flag. The following musical program in charge of Mrs. Fuller was delightfully rendered:

Piano Solos,
a Waltz, A La Bien Aimee by Schutt

Miss Beatrice Brown.

Vocal Duet, "Hark, hark how gently sings the lark", Schubert—
Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Stff.

Addresses by Mrs. Potter and Mrs.

Nautilus Club 1927

The routine business at the regular meeting of the Nautilus Woman's Club was followed by a very delightful, interesting and instructive program presented by Mr. D. L. Crawford successor of Mr. Stuart as manager of the N. E. Telephone Co. The public was invited through the members of the club and the headquarters were filled. Mrs. Eastman, the president, welcomed the guests and introduced the speaker of the evening. Mr. Crawford began at the very beginning of the telephone history and the evolution was shown in two moving pictures thrown on the screen by his assistant. The first, a comedy, entertaining and laughable, the second was constructive and instructive and completed the stages and situations in the progress to present day business. Mr. Crawford is a young, affable man, and he handled the subject in a splendid manner.

Vocal Solos, Sheep and Lambs by Homer, "The Spring Has Come by White. Mrs. John R. Manta

Addresses by Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Harding were inspirational. The inspiration came even before they began to talk and what they each said will not not soon fade from memory.

Both women are shining examples of noble womanhood and their messages left much to meditate upon. Mrs. Harding centered her thought on how much the Cape Clubs have to inspire them and gave vivid illustrations.

Mrs. Potter brought the message of the world's federated ideas and ideals for which to work. She paid tribute to the millions of federated women absorbed in recognized work giving friendship that never falters to the world's betterment. She mirrored the needs of the world round us and helped us better to play our own part in it.

A reception was held at the close of the program, Mrs. Eastman, Mrs. Mabel Day, and Mrs. Carrie Merrill assisting. Delectable refreshments of ices and cake were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Emma Cook, Mrs. Mattie Lewis, Mrs. Eveline Nickerson, Mrs. Sadie Crawford and Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman. The

Cloudburst During Picturesque Procession Fails to Dampen Ardor of Citizens Celebrating 200th Anniversary—Speaker Hull Lauds Gov Fuller in Sacco Case—Sen
Walsh, Congressman Gifford and Others Speak

By CHARLES A. MERRILL

PROVINCETOWN, Aug 5—Clad in her best bib and tucker and wholly unashamed of her advancing age, old Lady Provincetown pranced gaily through her paces today in celebration of her 200th birthday.

Even an untimely cloudburst, which broke just in time to drench hundreds of pretty costumes worn in a colorful parade after it had passed over three-fourths of the route, failed to dampen her ardor.

Pretty girls artistically costumed, Cape Cod mothers and Cape Cod daughters wearing their grandmother's past few months the eyes of all the world have been directed toward him, and the ears of all the world have been awaiting his message. He has spoken and the world has heard and approved.

"We have faith in Massachusetts today. We all know that there is one law in this State, one law for rich and poor, one law for high and low, one law for conservative and radical. The world knows that in Massachusetts we have a Government of laws and not of men.

"Of this we are proud, and you and I are glad to commend the courage of His Excellency, Alvan T. Fuller."

After expressing the thanks of the State and town to Admiral Robertson and the officers and men of the Arkansas for their part in the celebratail of 60 Marines, Capt J. T. Wright commanding.

Life Boat Rolls in Streets

The lifeboat of the Race Point Coast Guard station rolled through the streets mounted on its own carriage. Chief bosun's mate James Morris and his men, all in whites, were at the oars with their life preservers on.

Three floats were contributed by the Research Club of Provincetown. One depicted the signing of the compact in the cabin of the Mayflower. On the second a group of girls showed the contrast in styles between 1727 and 1927. A third pictured the deck of a hats and dresses, grizzled veterans of the whaling industry flourishing the tools of a vanished trade, dark-skinned sons of Portugal taking a gay off from the fishing grounds but hauling trawls for exhibition purposes, artists and art students, gold-braided officers tramping Marines and Blue Jackets from the battleship Arkansas. These were some of the elements which blended to create the most picturesque street pageant the tip of the Cape has witnessed since the Pilgrim tencentenary seven years ago.

There were many women and girls on the gaily-decorated floats, but with true Cape Cod spirit they swallowed their disappointment and disdained running to cover when the rain came, remaining in their places to pass in review before the visiting dignitaries at Town Hall.

These included Senator David I. Walsh, Admiral Ashley H. Robertson, U. S. N., and officers of his flagship, the Arkansas; Congressman Charles L. Gifford and Speaker John C. Hull of the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

Sun Comes Out Again Soon

"Fine day for it," remarked an out-of-towner to a Provincetown woman around noontime when there wasn't a cloud in the sky. "Ought to get one good day in 200 years," the woman retorted.

The remark was rendered doubly ironical by nature's tantrum in the afternoon. The shower did not last long, however, and the sun came out again in time to permit the spell binders to speak their pieces from the steps of the Town Hall to a crowd assembled on the lawn.

A heavy influx of tourists and excursionists swelled Provincetown's population to the highest point of the Summer, and created a traffic problem in the narrow streets for the local police and the detail of 10 motorcycle patrolmen sent here from the State Constabulary.

This was the second and biggest day of the four-day celebration in honor of Provincetown's 200 years as an incorporated community. In order to give the excursionists a chance to see the parade, the steamer Dorothy Bradford deferred her sailing on the return trip to Boston until 4:30 p. m.

Reference to Gov Fuller's decision in the Sacco-Vanzetti case was made during his remarks at Town Hall by Speaker Hull, the Governor's personal representative.

"You know why he (Gov Fuller) is not here," Mr Hull told the crowd. "I am sure under the circumstances you are glad to excuse him."

Tells of Pride in Fuller

"We are all proud today—I am more proud of our splendid Governor, Alvan T. Fuller, than ever before. For the tion, Senator Walsh discussed the ideals which brought the early settlers to New England.

"They had," the Senator said, "a profound respect for religion. To be sure, they were a little intolerant of other religions than their own, but they believed and trusted in God. Certainly they were inspired by the ideal of self-government. They believed that the ruled should be the rulers. They rebelled against the idea that the masses should be subject to a ruling class. They risked all for the right of men and women to name their own rulers and to enact their own laws.

Confident of Immigrants

"The same ideals have brought millions of later immigrants to our shores. I believe the country is safe in the hands of the newer elements of our population."

Congressman Gifford delivered some humorous remarks, admitting that it required the influence of Senator Walsh to bring the battleship Arkansas to Provincetown and Admiral Robertson, whose engaging personality has captured Provincetown, declared he would like nothing better than to be here for the party on its 300th birthday.

Clerk of Courts Charles N. Rogers introduced the speakers. Chairman Frank H. Barnett of the Selectmen voiced the town's official welcome to its guests.

The parade, however, not the speech-making, was the real feature of the day. This is the sort of thing which Provincetown, with its romantic history, its fishing industry, its art colony, does best. Beauty, originality and quaintness characterized the floats which made today's procession a series of delightful pictures.

Three Mashpee Indians in full regalia marched in the vanguard behind town police officers William D. Carlos and Frank Thomas. Then came a detachment of 500 bluejackets from the Arkansas under command of Lieut Commander H. T. Bartlett and a de-Provincetown whaler in 1850, with two veteran whalemans Capt Ed Walter Smith and Everett Small, in oilskins exhibiting whaling gun, harpoon and whale knives.

The local chapter of the Catholic Daughters of America displayed the interior of a little red schoolhouse, with Mrs Frank A. Days, wearing an old colonial red ribbon in her hair, presiding over a class of little tots.

Along came a dory, with three bronzed fishermen, real fishermen Frank Crowley, Serafin Taves and Manuel Perry, hauling real fish, a heterogeneous catch, right over the side. Crowley wore radio earphones while he tolled.

The creation of the Nautilus Club was like a picture on a magazine cover. The judges gave it first prize. It was a picture of a little Colonial house. There was a garden outside. Inside at her spinning wheel before a open fire sat the "Mother of 1727," with Mrs Edward Loring in the title role.

The students of Charles W. Hawthorne's Cape Cod School of Art went for both the beautiful and the grotesque. On one float a group was depicted worshipping the goddess of art. Miss Marjory Prather, dressed in white, gold bands around her golden hair, was the goddess. But on another float, labeled "Redgodless of Beauty," a group was made up to caricature some of the well-known artists of the Provincetown Colony.

Other Floats Picturesque

Edward Rich, S. R. Goodwin, W. K. Nickerson, James Dyer, David L. Allen and James Rich manned the float of the Anchor and Ark (Masonic) Club. They were all in oilskins, and were salting down mackerel on the deck of a vessel.

On a float entered by the local chapter of St Michael's Society, connected with St Peter's Catholic Church, a little angel, with wings and everything (Miss Alice Silva), was slaying the devil in the guise of a dragon.

The pretty girls of the Victory Club, dressed in their Sunday best, were drinking the health of Miss Provincetown and cutting a huge birthday cake, which had 200 candles.

Provincetown Council, K. of C., had rigged up a model of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, and was given second prize. Other floats, which won high commendation were entered by the local post of the American Legion, the Sunshine Club, the Daughters of Rebecca and Provincetown Chapter of Eastern Star.

The Cape Cod Pilgrim Memorial Association, trustees of the Provincetown monument, held its annual dinner and meeting at the Gifford House today, with Ex-Congressman Thomas C. Thacher in the chair, and re-elected William B. Lawrence of Medford as president. Mr Lawrence is now in Europe.

A band concert and dance in the Town Hall ended today's festivities.

Observes Twenty-first Birthday Anniversary

In remembrance of the 21st birthday of the Woman's Nautilus Club there was a large attendance present to observe the many happy years of club life. The meeting was preceded with the usual anniversary banquet at the Bryant House, delicious edibles, and the tables were made more attractive by the coloring confections and favors, all of which were associated with St. Valentine. The sounds of mirth and good cheer came from the various tables as different members broadcast the heart sentiments of Cupid which fell to them.

The business meeting followed at the home of the president Mrs. Minnie Eastman. A diversified budget of business and reports occupied considerable time after which a program of entertainment concluded the evening's activities. It consisted of music and literary selections. Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Stiff, Mrs. Clare Davis provided the various musical numbers and their artistry found favor with all. Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis gave two humorous readings in which all found enjoyment. A large birthday cake ornamented the central table, attractive red streamers, hearts, and cupids rendering Valentine effect were drawn by the members, games for guessing contributed to a delightful evening. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Cora Davis, Mrs. Nettie Cellins and Mrs. Annie Morris,

Provincetown Society Attends Function in Universalist Church Vestry

Mrs. Cora G. W. Fuller Leads After-Dinner Music, Speaking Program

[Special to The Standard]

Provincetown, April 24—The Nautilus Woman's club, Provincetown, observed President's day with a banquet and entertainment held in the vestry of Universalist church here last night with a large attendance of members and guests from the Cape.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Cora G. W. Fuller acted as master of ceremonies in a program of music and speaking. Mrs. Heman A. Harding, Hyannis, district director of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's clubs, spoke briefly and the following program was given:

Piano solo, Miss Beatrice Brown; club history, Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis; vocal solo, Mrs. Isabel Benson; address, A Look Ahead, the Rev. Nancy W. Paine Smith, retired pastor of the Universalist church.

Selections by a trio including Mrs. Benson, soprano, Mrs. C. Clare Davis, contralto, and Mrs. Alice Stiff, contralto; piano solo, Miss Brown and presentation of the Massachusetts Federated club pin to Mrs. Minnie Eastman, president of the Nautilus club, by Mrs. Fuller.

The vestry was beautifully decorated with pink and green. Roses and ferns on the tables harmonized with the color scheme. Those present received boutonnieres of sweet peas as favors.

The general committee in charge of the affair included: Mrs. Clio Curley, Mrs. Camilla Donworth, Mrs. Arthur Conee, Mrs. Jennie Healey, Mrs. Minnie Eastman, Mrs. Emma Cook and Mrs. C. Clare Davis.

Nautilus Club

The meeting of the Nautilus Club was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Alice Stiff and was well attended. There was considerable interest manifested in the reports of the year and also that of the Nominating Committee, Miss Holway, Mrs. Healey and Mrs. Johnson appointed at the last meeting to bring in candidates for the offices. The following new officers were chosen for the coming year. The new executive will be Mrs. Carrie Forrest who takes the position when Mrs. Eastman retires at the next meeting. Mrs. Jennie Healey was chosen Vice President, Mrs. Minnie Eastman Recording Secretary, Mrs. Mary Harris Corresponding Secretary and Mrs. Lou Higgins Treasurer. All these have been very active in club work and are pledged to make the new year a representative one. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dan. Merrill. The hospitality committee served delicious refreshments after the conclusion of the business of the session.

Presidents' Day with
Nautilus Club

Presidents' Day always comes in the Spring with the Nautilus Club. On Monday, April 23rd, saw the club women all over the district coming to Provincetown in response to the invitation to visit the club.

A splendid dinner, delightful program, attractive decorations, an enthusiastic body of members and guests, all pals in club work, and good weather, all had their part in making the day the success it was.

The affair was held in the Universalist Church Vestry.

After the dinner Mrs. Minnie Eastman, the president, presented Mrs. Heman Harding, president of the First District, who addressed the assemblage. At the conclusion the following program was enjoyed.

Nautilus Club

The Woman's Club resumed its winter activities Monday night at the Pilgrim House. The president, Mrs. Carrie Forrest, presided. It was the night for a visitation from the District Director, Mrs. Heman Harding, but her coming was postponed because of the illness of her husband.

An interesting meeting was carried out, however. It was an inspiration to see the interested workers and to hear them on the matters of an uplifting nature; cultural, informing and social. Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis was appointed Club Hostess, for the year. The hospitality committee comprising Mrs. Comee and Mrs. May Milliken served ices and cake. Twenty-six members were present.

Mrs. Isabel Benson rendered "Dreams" by Strelzki in fine voice and good taste. Miss Young accompanied her at the piano.

The president gave a greeting and after the happy restful summer vacation hoped all would be ready with their usual push and pep in co-operating in making the year an outstanding one in noteworthy features.

With a forward look and desire to serve, the club work has auspiciously opened. Oct. 8, 1928

Dr. Albion Speaks Before Club

The Nautilus Woman's Club held its regular meeting with Mrs. Minnie Eastman as usual Monday evening. The business session was disposed of with alacrity. Mrs. Anna Young was chairman of the evening and introduced Dr. James F. Albion, newly assigned pastor of the Universalist church, as the speaker of the evening.

Dr. Albion's theme for the evening was "Personal Contacts in Foreign Travel", and, in his forceful, genial and kindly manner gave keen delight to the large number present. He compared the Pilgrim Monument with that of the one seen in Italy and the descriptive surroundings, gave special pleasure. Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Atkins hostesses served delicious and dainty refreshments. Mrs. Benson rendered "Going Home" and "My Jacqueminot". Nov. 12, 1928

NOVEMBER 26, 1928.

On the evening of Nov, 26, the Nautilus Club was entertained by Mrs. Clare Davis, who spoke in her usual delightful manner, on the American Home.

She compared the homes of the past and present, stressing the need of more religious training in the home of to-day.

Misses MacIntyre & Williams served delicious refreshments, and the evening was a most enjoyable one.

Dec. 10 Nautilus Club Hears 1928 Interesting Reminiscences

On Monday evening Mr. Bert Paige was given cordial greetings at the Nautilus Woman Club when he gave a travel talk. He was presented by Mrs. Carrie Merrill in a pleasing manner. Mr. Paige told of his voyage across the Mediterranean sea which was an inspiring preparation for travel in the Orient. He gave interesting and illuminating glimpses of the Medeira, Seville, Gibraltar, Algiers, Tunis, Athens, Constantinople, Jerusalem, Palestine, Lake of Gallilee, Naples, Rome, Cairo, France, Paris, London. He told of climbing Mt. Vesuvius and the highest pyramids of Egypt, of visiting the Vatican of St. Peters, and the King's palace. The places each had its characteristic setting, in history, romance, charm, antiquity, art music, trade pursuits. Each had its peculiar fascination. Mr. Paige was particularly stirred with Egypt, its stupendous pyramids, and history. It touched the realm of his imagination.

The hospitality committee, Mrs. Wilcox and Mrs. Dearborn served delicious refreshments and a social period was enjoyed.

On December 26th a Christmas Party, with Mrs. Clio Curley as chairman, will be the program.

Dec. 26 Woman's Club Party 1928

The Nautilus Club held its regular meeting Wednesday night at the Pilgrim House. Mrs Jennie Healey presided in the absence of the President, Mrs. Forrest. The meeting opened by the singing of the Club song "America The Beautiful". Miss Young was the pianist of the evening. Two new members came into the club.

Mrs. Minnie Eastman recited the Collect. A short business session of important actions on communications and the meeting was given over to the chairman of the evening, Mrs. Clio Curley.

The program took on the character of Christmas and was a cheerful one. Mrs. Benson rendered selections in fine voice and the literary part was given by Mrs. Fuller. Games under direction of Mrs. Harriet M. Johnson were geographical in character. Everyone present was in festive mood.

The parlors were made extremely beautiful with decorations of native greens, berries and cones. A splendid Christmas tree bearing a gift for each member of the club with special poetry attached brought much fun. Delicious refreshments were served by the hospitality committee. Cordial New Year greetings were extended and the thought that happiness in the coming year does not depend so much on what it brings us, but on the mood in which we meet its events. The next meeting January 14th is under the chairmanship of Mrs. George F. Miller, Jr., subject "Art".

Jan. 14 - Nautilus Club 1929
The Nautilus Club meeting at the Pilgrim House Monday night followed the usual custom of much business transacted.

The topic of the evening was "Art." Mrs. George Fillmore Miller, Jr., was chairman of the program and Mrs. Harold Jayden Brown, a noted artist in town, gave a delightful talk on her work among the young people she is directing in art appreciation and block work. Mrs. Elsie Phillips was hospitality committee chairman and was assisted by Mrs. Carrie Forrest.

Musical Lecture

The Nautilus Club gave Provincetown music lovers a rare treat last evening in the vestry of the Center Methodist Church.

A large audience listened to an illustrated, musical program under the management of Mrs. Sivert Benson.

Rev. C. Claire Davis gave a most interesting and instructive lecture on some of the great musicians and composers of the classical, romantic and modern periods.

Mr. Clinton Jonas at the piano, played beautiful selections from the artists mentioned, the principal ones being from Bach, Scarlatti, Mozart, Beethoven, Liszt, Chopin, Schumann, Brahms, Tschaiikowsky, Wagner and Rachmaninof.

The program closed with a song by Rachmaninof called "At Night," charmingly rendered by Mrs. Benson.

On Friday night, Feb. 15th, the Nautilus Woman's Club observed its twenty-second birthday with an anniversary supper at the Bryant House, and a regular meeting, program and frolic at the Pilgrim House.

At 6.30 the chicken pie supper, with valentine sentiments and place cards with names of members written backwards, was served. At 8 o'clock the regular meeting, the receiving of a new member and reports of committees. The profits from the musical netted $21.70. The food sale on Tuesday was for the benefit of the school of handicraft and art which is sponsored by Mrs. Harold Haven Brown.

A series of bridge whist parties for the benefit of the building fund will be held weekly at the Pilgrim House. Mrs. George F. Miller, Jr., Mrs. Stahl and Mrs. Jennie H. Healey committee in charge.

In view of the proposed athletic field and the fact that the Club owns a tract of land near Evans Field a committee was named with Mrs. Clara L. Watson chairman to ask the town's committee to accept the land as a gift from the club.

The entertainment program consisted of music by Mrs. Alice Stiff, and a reading by Mrs. Clio Curley. A period of fun making then followed. Mrs. Jennie H. Healey read an original paper in which she brought in the names of club members with relation to some club matter. Miss Hannah Holway, who is the mother of the club, gave an interesting history of its activities in the 22 years of its existence.

Two beautiful birthday cakes made of ice cream were placed on the prettily decorated buffet, cut by the president Mrs. Carrie Forrest and served by the committee, Mrs. Dan. Merrill, Mrs. Stahl and Miss Holway, with fancy cakes and crackers.

The Frolic

Games, the dressing up as old fashioned sweethearts on St. Valentine time was a scream, and "Copy-Cats" taxed the ingenuity of every of every taxed the ingenuity of every candidate. Telegrams instead of valentines were full of color and business and delightfully clever. The committee put over one of the best birthday parties in the minds of all attending.

NAUTILUS CLUB

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club was held Monday evening at the Pilgrim House. After a short business session the members were addressed by Mrs. Nancy Paine Smith, who as usual, inspired her hearers with something worth while. Her subject was Literature, and she introduced it by giving Prof. Barret Wendell's definition of it as "The lasting expression in words of the meaning of life." and applied it to the different periods in our American life from 1620 to the present time.

From 1620 to 1700 the background of all literature was intensely religious and gloomy. Undergoing a change through the writings of John Woolman and James Freeman, in 1800 to 1900, the world became different and the changes broader. Two books of the present day Mrs. Smith said that may be a lasting expression of the meaning of life are "Disenchantment" by C. E. Montague, having to do with the World War, and "The Great Adventure," stories about Africa, by Jean Mackenzie.

A social hour followed, with tea and sandwiches served by Mrs. Healey and Mrs. Camilla Cook.

OLD MAIDS' CONVENTION GIVES PROVINCETOWN AUDIENCE LAUGH

Voluminous Gowns, Fancy Millinery, and Elaborate Coiffures Worn by Participants in Benefit Affair, Presented in Center Church Vestry—Mouse Victim of Gavel

By CORA G. W. FULLER. 1928

[Special to The Standard]

Provincetown, April 3—Man, poor Man. His fickle heart the target of lovely Woman—that is the way it looked at the Spinsters' Convention. Did you ever attend a genuine sewing circle where the ladies (bless them, may their shadows never grow less) all talk at once, and with the greatest apparent ease keep run of all they say themselves, and not only that, but follow along the train of thought of their sweet sisters?

Audience In Gale of Laughter.

Well, the public ran up against the "real thing" Friday night in the Old Maids' Convention at Center church vestry. It was unquestionably a most amusing sketch, and its presentation manifested a fine sense of humor as well as genius.

There was really little to it; no plot, no love scene—but that is a mistake—it was a love scene, though alas! the man was lacking. While 20 maidens sang dolorously "No one to love, none to caress" with a "no one to love me" expression, sighing again and again for man, poor man, the convention kept the audience, which filled the vestry, in a gale of laughter and in delightful excitement. Every one of them seemed to have an eye out for a matrimonial chance. The deaf old (?) girls were got up regardless of taste and expense, each one evidently following out an idea of her particular genius in that direction.

Voluminous gowns, lace and cashmere scarfs, wonders in the millinery art, and the side combs and the back combs with shell ornaments, made up toilets that would take the prize anywhere. Powder (but speak it easy), well, there was enough to blow up a ship.

Each one made fun for all. Any and all of them were ready to lead some poor male and offer him up as a sacrifice on the altar of matrimony.

The session was opened by the president, who meant business as she wielded the gavel in a manner which would have done credit to a presiding officer of a political convention. On the gavel was tied a bouquet of flowers. She addressed the sisters on the principles of the club and summed them up in that one magic word "Man, the hope of every spinster's heart, the lone star of her existence, and the goal of her ambition, the radiant sun of her dark sky, the glorious being of her adoration!"

Loud applause greeted her efforts and the roll call was responded to by the club members with some little thing after the style of "Men may come and men may go—but I go on forever," another "Ichabod, Jim, Bill or Sam, come and take me as I am."

One member was reported unavoidably absent, fighting a breach of promise suit. The records were read from a voluminous book by the secretary and incidental business was transacted in the usual expeditious and voiceless (?) manner, all the sisters speaking at once and voting on both sides of each question. The treasurer read the following bills:

Beauty powder	$10.00
Creath tablets	15.00
Flowers for bachelors and widows	25.50
Matrimonial journals	5.00
Candy kisses and hearts	5.39
Reception to bachelors	50.00
Swan's Down powders	6.00

Mouse Brings Excitement.

A mouse appeared and every mother's son of those females sought safety on a chair. The president valiantly met the enemy and dispatched him with her gavel. "Girls", she said, "how do you ever expect to catch a man if you can not catch a mouse?" Various committees read reports that were very humorous, especially that of the vigilant committee, the outlook committee, committees on rules of Provincetown hotels, the petition to Congress, and the market report. The debate on dress reform and woman's rights pro and con raised gales of laughter.

The convention was thrown into a flutter of excitement by the arrival of Professor Makeover. After proudly informing the ladies of his wonderful transforming machine, the females who desired to change entered the Remodeloscope, the crank was turned, and they emerged altogether different. One, who wanted to become changed could not be accommodated as she did not give her correct age and the machine broke under high pressure and brought the performance to a close. Those coming out of the Remodeloscope were Miss Mabel Williams, Mrs. Isabel Benson, C. Clare Davis, each of whom rendered vocal solos finely. John Atkins and Helma Benson played a duet and Vivian Davis recited. The market report was as follows: Bert Cook, "cornered"; Jim Rich, "out of the market"; Lloyd Higgins, "very uncertain"; Thomas Lopez, "nothing doing"; Arthur Rose, "gone to highest bidder"; Edward Dickinson, "in demand"; Wilfred Slade, "to be had for the asking"; Jim Dyer, "ready to fall".

Others were "difficult case", "uncertain", "rather hopeless", "young but steady", "already spoken for", "apparently does not care for the ladies", "hard to catch", "hopeless", "indifferent", "fickle", "immovable".

PROVINCETOWN CAST PRESENTS AMUSING BENEFIT SKETCH

NAUTILUS WOMANS' CLUB

Snowflakes and storm out-of-doors only served to emphasize the peace and joy at the regular meeting of the Nautilus Club Monday evening, at the home of the president, Mrs. Carrie M. Forrest, Pearl Street.

The business session containing much of interest was followed by an extraordinarily enjoyable program. Mrs. Lewis, chairman, presented Mrs. Jack Green who gave a most delightful talk on "Drama in every day life and on the Stage". It was replete with valuable touches that impressed and delighted all present.

For good measure Mrs. Green recited very beautifully Ibsen's "Doll House" and in a dramatic manner rendered Browning's "Confession". Mrs. Green's qualifications added to the very delightful and pleasing renditions.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee Mrs. Day and Mrs. MacIntyre.

The next session will be the Annual Meeting, May 13, in the new Club quarters.

GUESTS OF HYANNIS WOMAN'S CLUB

Quite a party from the local Woman's Club attended President's Day at Barnstable as guests of the Woman's Club of that town. Mrs. Azel A. Packard president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs was the guest of honor. Other state officials were present.

Those attending the meeting from Provincetown were Miss Hannah Holway, Mrs. Carrie Forrest, Mrs. Jennie Healey, Mrs. Charles Harris, Mrs. Harriet M. Johnson, Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis, Mrs. Emma P. Cook, Mrs. Etta Atkins, Mrs. Annie Morris, and Mrs. Cora Davis. April 22, 1929

NAUTILUS CLUB MEETING

March 11-1929

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club, was held Monday eve at the Pilgrim House. A short business session preceded an evening of interest in song and an interesting paper written by telegrapher Reginald Phillips and read by Mrs. D. H. Hiebert on "The beginning and progress of telegraphy and telephony." It was an historical sketch of the Western Union's earliest history to the new Simplex which has recently replaced the old form. The Trans-Atlantic Cable was an interesting part and also the experiences of Mr. Phillips with the submitting of news during the S-4 tragedy.

Mrs. Hiebert presented the graphic paper with marked ability and enthusiasm. It was certainly an educational product and highly enjoyed.

NEW CLUB HOME 1929

After more than a year without a club home the Nautilus Woman's Club have found available very desirable headquarters over the garage of Dr. C. P. Curley, Commercial St. The club suffered a great loss in the fire of October 1927 and since then have held their semi monthly meetings under the hospitable roof of one of its members and past presidents, Mrs. Harry Eastman at the Pilgrim House, where club work has been carried on with the same avidity as before the stern visitation.

It was with a feeling of joy, however, that the members learned of the successful finding in the center of the town, this delightful spot commanding a magnificent view of the harbor which is available for occupancy. The building has been rented, and it is expected the annual meeting May 6th will be held in the new quarters. We congratulate the club on finding such adaptable club quarters.

GUEST NIGHT

One of the most successful annual guest nights in the history of the Nautilus Woman's Club was conducted Monday evening. Each member of the club was privileged to invite two guests and representatives of clubs and organizations were also present, so there was present a large and representative gathering. The meeting was held in the vestry of the Center M. E. Church which was beautifully decorated in club colors, pink and green.

Alice Stiff was chairman of the program committee. The president, Mrs. Carrie Forrest gave greetings. The program featured vocal and instrumental numbers and the speaker of the evening was Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon. The musical numbers were charmingly rendered. Clinton Jonas gave piano selections, Mr. C. C. Davis and Mrs. Isabel Benson, vocal solos; and Mr. Rasova, violin selections, each in masterful manner. Miss Adelaide Gibbs acted as accompanist.

Mrs. Elizabeth West Pigeon and Mrs. Heman Harding, Dist. Director, were speakers. Mrs. Pigeon needed no introduction to Provincetown, her native town, which has watched her career with interest, enthusiasm and pride. Mrs. Pigeon says she always carries Provincetown in her heart surrounded by the halo of tender memories. Mrs. Pigeon is a loyal club woman, a recent president of Boston's city Federation of Clubs comprising thousands of members. She has been an ardent worker for better citizenship and has had a wise grasp on all the departments of federated clubs. She has devoted time and strength in the interest and high aspirations of the organization. She has brought many messages to club members all over the state by radio. She is the only woman on Boston's "Safety First" Council. At present she is State Chairman of Legislation. "Legislation" was the subject of the evening and was delightfully and en-lightingly handled by Mrs. Pigeon. At the close refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

NAUTILUS CLUB HAS BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Carrie Merrill Will Head Provincetown Body for Coming Year

Surprise Social Held for Mrs. Harriet Adams, New Vice President

[Special to The Standard]

Provincetown, May 14—Members of the Nautilus Woman's club met in their new headquarters for the first time yesterday, and celebrated the 23d anniversary of the club. The rooms were decorated with yellow alyssum.

Officers elected for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Carrie Merrill; vice president, Mrs. Harriet Adams; recording secretary, Mrs. Carrie Forrest; correspondent secretary, Mrs. Mary Harris; treasurer, Mrs. Lou Higgins.

Two Membes Admitted.

Other important business was transacted. Two new members were admitted to the club—Mrs. Annie Dennis and Mrs. Emma MacDonald. It was voted to have the club insured. A committee appointed to make arrangements comprises Mrs. Anna Young and Mrs. Harriet Johnson.

Plans were made for a rummage sale and luncheon, as well as for a May 27 social.

Letters of thanks have been sent to several benefactors of the club, including Mrs. John A. Matheson, who donated theatrical gauze for the window curtains; Mrs. Edward Stanwood, who donated two chairs; Dr. C. T. Curley, who made the necessary alteration to the club rooms; and Mrs. George Miller, who contributed some paint.

At the close of the meeting a surprise social was held for Mrs. Adams, who was recently married. Club members gave her a waffle iron. A poem was read by Miss Nina Williams.

NAUTILUS WOMANS' CLUB

In New Quarters 1929

The Nautilus Club held its first meeting in the new club rooms Monday evening May 13th and celebrated its 23rd anniversary.

Important business was transacted and two new members were elected to membership.

The annual reports and election of new officers took up much of the time. The officers for the coming year are Mrs. Carrie Matheson Merrill, President; Vice President, Mrs. Harriet Adams; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Carrie Forrest; Cor. Secretary, Mrs. Mary Harris; Treasurer, Mrs. Lou Higgins.

Letters of thanks were sent to several people outside the club who have been very generous in contributing towards refurbishing the headquarters.

It was voted to insure the furnishings, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Johnson were appointed the committee on insurance. Plans were made for a Rummage Sale at the Club headquarters Friday May 17th at 1:30.

Under direction of the Club room committee a Business Man's luncheon will soon be given, and on May 27th a Dollar Social. Several bridge parties and luncheons are planned for the summer.

Two appropriate poems were read concerning the Club's birthday, one by Mrs. Jennie C. Healey and the other by Mrs. Elizabeth K. Hopkins, the former was read by Miss Nina Williams and the other by Mrs. Mary Harris.

A surprise was given Mrs. Harriet Adams, newly wed, by the presentation of a fine electric waffle iron. Mrs. Carrie Merrill made the presentation in behalf of the club.

NAUTILUS CLUB

There was inspiration and a great deal of interest at the last meeting of the Nautilus Woman's Club, Monday evening at their quarters. The new officers were in their respective chairs and affairs moved rapidly.

While the regular sessions are convened, interested committees are to be busy all summer.

On June 6th a Luncheon Bridge at 1 P. M. tickets $1.00.

A series of business men's lunches will be served during June. In July each Friday afternoon there will be bridge teas. The affairs are all open to the public.

After the business session, the time was devoted to sociability and the hospitality committee, Mrs. Carrie Forrest and Mrs. Clara Watson served iced ginger ale and sandwiches.

June 17 NAUTILUS CLUB 1929

Interest and enthusiasm marked the first of the Nautilus Club's bridge luncheons on Monday afternoon. The weather man gave his best brand of warm weather and the committee left no stone unturned to make the affair a success. The luncheon was delicious and 40 were seated at the tables. The bridge prize winners were Leonora Nickerson, Mrs. J. D. Adams Jr., Mrs. G. F. Miller, Jr., Miss Louise C. Paine, Mrs. Burguin of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Nautilus Woman's Club are holding a series of rummage sales at their headquarters. Some very good bargains. If you have things at home that you don't care for send them to the Club. A schedule of fine affairs for the summer is in the hands of the house committee and will be ready for the press soon. Mrs. Carrie M. Merrill is chairman of the House Committee. It is going to be a busy summer for the club.

MacMillan Guest Of Women's Club

Atmosphere of Northern Country
Brought to Club and Guests

At the close of the business meeting of the Women's Club Monday evening another of its delightful guest nights was enjoyed.

Commander Donald B. MacMillan was presented by Mrs. May Rogers (Mrs. Fred W.) and for more than two hours he addressed the members and guests with the same graciousness of spirit with which he meets the public and friends on life's highway.

His lecture was profusely illustrated with Arctic views and life in general in these most remote northern regions. And his wealth of Experience in these circles permitted him to present another of the most fascinating lectures before the public today. It was charmingly presented, and the human interest, thrills, philosophy of life was tremendously effective, as he so cleverly brought out the wit, the humor and pathos.

Commander MacMillan gives much pleasure and comfort to the home town circles in presenting in his alert, cheery way his extensive travels for which he has an enviable reputation throughout the country. Not a word was lost, and every eye was focused on the colorful pictures which enhanced his story.

It was an outstanding club night and deep appreciation is felt for this program and the refreshing speaker, a favorite of everyone.

Three new names were presented for membership and special committees were appointed on Club affairs.

The next meeting will be on Nov. 11, Subject, "Pan American Countries", in charge of Mrs. Isaiah Small and Miss Mertie C. Kelley.

Nautilus Club Hear Dr. Eaton

Nov. 18, 1929

Forty-five persons were present at the regular meeting of the Nautilus Club last Monday evening and listened to a delightful travelogue given by Dr. P. J. Eaton on his West Indies cruise, which was illustrated with moving pictures.

This was an entertaining and instructive talk by one who has been a serious observer of the social life of people in different countries.

It was received with enthusiasm.

On Friday afternoon a bridge party was held to which the public was invited.

A Union Meeting is to be held in the Universalist Church on Sunday evening, Dec. 8, to which every one who is interested in the American Home, is invited to come. The ministers of the various churches will officiate. The meeting is sponsored by the State Federation of Women's Clubs, of which the Nautilus Club is a member.

NAUTILUS CLUB

We wish to forecast again the meeting of the Nautilus Woman's Club for Monday evening at Club Headquarters.

Dr. P. J. Eaton is the speaker and he will illustrate his address by moving pictures of the Pan-American Countries which he has visited. Each member may invite a guest.

It is a matter of congratulation the committee secured Dr. Eaton. We repeat, be sure and attend this fascinating lecture.

Heating by oil has been installed this week in the club rooms.

Nautilus Club Union Service

A Union Service, the subject of which will be "The American Home" will take place on Sunday evening, December the fifteenth at seven o'clock at the Universalist Church, under the auspices of the Nautilus Club.

Dr. James Albion will deliver a sermon titled "The American Home" and the Rev. George Locke will offer the prayer.

Mrs. John R. Manta, who has charge of the musical program, has secured the assistance of Mr. Coulton Waugh whose musical talent is always appreciated. A chorus of over fifty voices from the various churches who are co-operating, will sing an Austrian Folk Song, "Shepherd's Christmas Song" written in 1810 by Heinrich Reiman. Mrs. Sara N. Johnson will be the accompanist.

No correct valuation can be placed upon the far-reaching effects of this event, nor the friendly co-operation through the associations under the emotional and Spiritual spell of Sacred Music. At this time of year hearts are filled with the spirit of giving, and the yearning to hasten the day when "Peace on Earth, Good Will toward Men", will be a reality.

All community events bind people closer together, through the power of united interests, which foster a deeper understanding of one another's needs.

Churches of all denominations are cordially invited to attend.

There will be a choir rehearsal at the Universalist Church on Friday evening at seven o'clock.

Union Service Held At Universalist Ch.

The Union Service at the Universalist Church Sunday evening under the auspices of the Home department of the Nautilus Club, Mrs. Clio Curley, chairman was a delightful affair. Rev. Dr. J. F. Albion gave an address that was replete with good things and fastened the attention of the large audience present from start to finish on the theme, "American Home" or Family Night.

The music was exceptionally well rendered by the musicians of the various churches. A chorus of 50 voices, vested young people's choirs, solo by Dr. P. J. Eaton, —accompanists were Mrs. Sara N. Johnson, pianist and Mr. Coulton Waugh, violinist. Mrs. Manta was chairman of the music.

A collection was taken which the Nautilus Club rendered over to disabled veterans Christmas box and in part to local charities.

Hooked Rug Talk Given Nautilus Club

The Nautilus Club had an interesting meeting Monday the 25th when Mrs. Coulton Waugh brought hooked rugs and gave a talk upon the history of hook rugs, their origin in a country home and many interesting bits of information was given.

The Hooked Rug Shop which she represents has had rugs from Ireland, New Foundland, Canada and Northern Maine.

The hostesses were Mrs. Anna M. Young and Mrs. G. Fillmore Miller Jr.

A display of rugs done by people in town proved that people here are doing excellent work. This may mean that we shall have an industry centering here.

Three new members have joined the Club.

Provincetown has lost one of its known and beloved residents in the death of Mrs. Carrie W. Small on the 21st of November. She passed away in the house where she was born and where she has lived 64 years of her life at 155 Commercial street.

Mrs. Small was the daughter of William and Sabrina S. Clarke.

Her husband, Isaiah Adelbert Small is assistant cashier at the First National Bank. Their only son, Isaiah A. Small, Jr., died four years ago at the age of 20 during his second year in college.

For fourteen years she has acted as one of the librarians in Provincetown and in that capacity her interests were everywhere out in the world at large as well as among the artists of the summer time.

She has been president of the Research Club, The Nautilus Club, The Mission Circle, and Tuesday Club.

From time to time articles from her pen have appeared in the Advocate. Accurate description of some historical event.

The funeral services were held Sunday at one o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Jas. F. Albion in charge with Mrs. Manta soloist.

Mrs. Carrie W. Small

PROVINCETOWN, Nov. 21 — Mrs. Carrie W. Small, 64, one of the best-known women residents at the tip of the Cape, died today in the house where she was born, at 155 Commercial street. Her husband, Isaiah A. Small, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, Provincetown, survives her.

Mrs. Small was the daughter of William and Sabrina S. Clarke. For 14 years she was an assistant at the local public library, which position she resigned two years ago. She was formerly president of the Research Club and the Nautilus Club. Funeral arrangements are not completed.

On Monday evening, December 9th, the Nautilus Woman's Club observed "American Home" night at Club headquarters. There was a large and enthusiastic gathering of members.

After the business of the meeting, with Vice President Mrs. Harriet D. Adams in the chair three new members were admitted.

Mrs. Clio P. Curley and Miss Louise C. Paine had charge of the "American Home" program. Readings on the subject were given by Miss Katherine MacIntyre and Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis and Mrs. Isable Benson rendered vocal selections. Miss Helen Cooney gave a health talk. Mrs. Minnie Eastman gave a community service talk and a very interesting letter from the president Mrs. Carrie Merrill was read describing her trip to Miami. At the close of the formal program there was an exhibition of home work. Each member brought a sample of one thing she could do better than anything else and in consequence there was a very wonderful display of handiwork. Almost everything from a dress to bedspreads, hooked rugs galore, beautiful crochet work, knitting, embroideries, lamp shades, block prints, cake, confections, jams, pectines and preserves. A fine display and a great compliment to the women of the club.

A most unique exhibit was the paper house on "American Home"—completely furnished in every detail—furnishings also of paper. Every part was solidly shellacked. This was the work of Miss Cynthia Anthony.

Each member presented their own contribution and recipe for doing things.

At the close the food products were sold at auction and the sum netted will go to the wounded war veterans in hospitals.

A collection of good things each year at Christmas time is sent by the Club, and its friends, through the chairman of the department, Mrs. Mary Stull MacIntyre.

It is requested that all desiring to send something to the wounded veterans, do so by leaving articles at the home of Mrs. MacIntyre, the store of J. A. Rich Company or at the office of Adams' Garage.

At the close of the meeting the hospitality committee served delicious refreshments.

NAUTILUS WOMAN'S CLUB

Oct. 1929

The Woman's Club opened the season Tuesday evening October 15th with its first regular meeting of their calendar year in the newly equipped and handsomely furnished club quarters.

At 6.30 a co-operative supper was served under the direction of Mrs. Nettie Collins, Mrs. James Morris, Mrs. Charles A. Atkins, hostesses. Thirty-six were seated.

Mrs. Ralph H. Snow of Harwichport director of the first district was the guest of honor.

At its conclusion the regular meeting of business with the president Mrs. Carrie Merrill, in chair, brought the reports of standing committees. Mrs. William Healey reported the income of $300 from summer activities which was greeted with much satisfaction.

The House committee reported on the new furnishings, and the attractiveness was evident to all in the excellent taste used. Miss Adelaide Gibbs rendered two beautiful piano selections.

Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis gave a brief history of the club of 1907. Mrs. Isabel Benson rendered two vocal numbers delightfully, and Mrs. Ralph H. Snow was presented and gave an inspiring address of club doings all along the line where she pays official visits, shuttling back and forth weaving the touch of neighborliness in the district and giving stimulus to club life, its opportunities and tasks. Mrs. Snow gave a splendid address.

The first meeting of the season was an unqualified success.

Nautilus Women Have Swell Party

Feb. 15 — 1930

The twenty-third birthday anniversary of the Nautilus Club was observed Saturday night. A banquet was served at Marshall's Cafe. The table decorations were beautiful. Roses in profusion—arranged like a garden with electric bulbs in the center as large center piece. A rose standing upright at each place with a Valentine place card made the ensemble.

The viands were delicious and service fine. About 50 members sat down and enjoyed the appointments in an atmosphere festive in every detail. The banquet concluded, members repaired to club headquarters for a special program.

Mr. Frances Carreiro rendered two violin selections from the New England Conservatory play "Fantasie" from Oberon, and a selection from the opera William Tell. Mrs. Mary O'Rork-Silva accompanied him at the piano.

Mrs. Ann Dennis rendered two vocal selections, "Reverie" and "Smiling Through" accompanied by Miss Catherine Jason at the piano.

Mrs. Alice Stiff rendered two garden songs accompanied by Mrs. Isabel Benson. Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis, gave a humorous reading and Mrs. Cora Fuller gave two readings, musically illustrated. "Comfort" and "Ain't It Fine Today".

Miss Katherine MacIntyre gave an interesting history of the Club by asking questions and distributing the answers for members to respond.

Mrs. Emma P. Cook, Mrs. Minnie Eastman and Mrs. Sherwood were the committee in charge of the celebration.

After the program a short business meeting was held with Mrs. Charles Harris presiding. An hour of varied sociability and unen the committee cut the ice cream birthday cake—a beautiful heart-shaped valentine—and served it with assorted cake. The Club song "America The Beautiful" closed the effective birthday party.

NAUTILUS CLUB

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Womans' Club was held Monday evening at the Club house.

Mrs. Carrie Merrill was welcomed with hearty hands of greeting as president after an absence of several months in Miami, Florida.

The session was wholly a business one and several important measures were acted upon.

The winter has been a thrifty one for the club under the guidance of the vice-president Mrs. J. D. Adams, Jr.

The usual social hour followed the business meeting which is always a vital part of club life. Apr. 28, 1930

Mrs. Henry Clagg of Barnstable, a guest of the Nautilus Club on Monday night, was the author of the first article suggesting the building of a road out to Race Point. This article appeared in the Advocate of March 1917. 1930

NAUTILUS CLUB

March 10 — 1930

The woman's Nautilus Club observed its regular meeting Monday night. Guests were invited, about fifty were present. Rev. Nancy W. P. Smith was the speaker of the evening, her subject "Tracing God Through the Ages", was treated in a masterly manner and at the close Mrs. Smith was given a hearty vote of thanks for her splendid address. It was another epoch in the club's life.

Music was rendered by Mrs. Sivert Benson and Miss Adelaide Gibbs in their usual good taste and manner.

The hostesses were Mrs. Clara L. Watson and Miss Nina S. Williams. A social period followed with refreshments.

Nautilus Club

March 24 — 1930

At the second regular meeting of the month, a very enjoyable and instructive lecture on "Civic Art" was presented with many beautiful slides showing outstanding examples of types of architecture and sculpture in this country and abroad. The lecture by Leila Mechlin, editor of the American Art Magazine and distributed by the American Federation of Art, was full of interest and made more pleasing by the reader, Mrs. Charles Harris, who held the pictures on the screen sufficiently long so that the audience was able to appreciate in every detail their beauty.

The lecture was preceded by a short business session after which Miss Olive Badger was admitted to membership. Mrs. Ann Dennis pleased the audience by her singing of "A Little Kiss at Morning". Mrs. Comee and Mrs. Harris were hostesses.

Nautilus Club Holds Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of the Nautilus Club of January 27th was one that may be looked back to with satisfaction. The calendar subject "Legislation"—committee Mrs. Hiebert and Mrs. Mary Dennis—was postponed because of the illness of the committee.

Mrs. Adams, vice president, and acting president of the hospitality committee, Mrs. Healey, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Eastman were in charge of affairs.

The Relief Corps was represented by a score of members and presented a silk flag to the Club. The former one having been lost in the fire two years ago. Miss Fannie Rogers, patriotic instructor, made the presentation speech which was followed by a salute to the flag, and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and America the Beautiful by the gathering.

Mrs. Harriet Adams received the flag for the Club and in a very gracious acceptance speech gave words of commendable praise to the Relief Corps.

Miss Beatrice Welsh rendered piano solos and Miss Nina Williams read several patriotic selections. The collation was served by the hospitality committee. Mrs. Mattie A. Lewis, dramatic chairman, reported progress on two plays to be presented in February and Miss Nettie F. Collins and Mrs. Jos. Morris reported the recent bridge party netted the club $20. under their direction.

The Nautilus Club held a business meeting at their club rooms on Monday evening. After a short business session, the Women's Relief Corps, in a very delightful and impressive ceremony, presented a flag to the club. A short musical program was given by Miss Beatrice Welsh after which refreshments were served. The bridge party on Friday evening, January 24th was very well attended proving a financial as well as a social success. 1930

The Nautilus Club held a New Year's party at the club rooms on Monday evening. A cooperative supper supplied by all of the members under the chairmanship of Mrs. Cora Davis, was served. During the evening old fashioned games such as checkers, polly-pot-the-kettle-on, peanut-bobbing etc. were played at the seven tables and winners progressed as in bridge. Mrs. Clare Davis won first prize and Mrs. J. Darrow Adams the second. 1930

The Nautilus Club under the Community Service has been asked by the State Federation to beautify the roadside and in accordance with this request we are asking the people of Provincetown to save all the flower seeds and every small tree or shrub that they are not going to use around their own grounds, either plant them themselves or give them to the following committee who will see they are properly set out.

We are especially anxious that all school children will be interested in this project and will contribute a tree, shrub or seeds.

NAUTILUS CLUB

April 14, 1930

Charming and cordial hostesses, exquisite decorations, giving an atmosphere of springtime, a delightful cooperative luncheon, a reception and an enjoyable program were features of the annual Guest Night of the Nautilus Club, Monday night, at the club headquarters when state and district officers—past presidents, presidents and secretaries of several Cape clubs were entertained. It proved a red-letter day in the annals of the local club and one of the most delightful guest days ever observed by them. State Pres., Mrs. Azel Packard; Mrs. Ralph Snow, district director; and Mrs. Heman Harding, nominated for Fourth vice-president of the Mass. State Federation, were guests of honor. Mrs. Harriet Adams, acting president of the Nautilus Club presided. A short program of music consisting of piano selections by Miss Adelaide Gibbs and two solos by Mrs. Sivert Benson were greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Ralph Snow spoke on Federated topics, Mrs. Harding on International Relations and Mrs. Packard traced the growth of the Federation from its beginnings to the present organization.

NAUTILUS CLUB HOLD ANNIVERSARY DINNER

7-26-16. — 1931

The twenty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Nautilus Club was observed on Monday evening, February 16th by a turkey dinner served at the Bryant House, at which 25 members were present, followed by an adjournment to the club rooms where a social hour was enjoyed. The tables were attractively laid with place cards following the club color scheme and at each cover were individual birthday cakes of white with the numerals "24" in pink icing. At the president's table was Mrs. Ralph Srow of Harwichport, First District Director, the Nautilus Club president, Mrs. J. Darrow Adams, vice-president, Mrs. D. H. Hiebert and the secretary, Mrs. Mary S. MacIntyre. At the close of the dinner a beautiful bouquet of deep pink sweet peas was presented to Mrs. Snow. An informal and very interesting talk was given by Mrs. Snow at the club room. Mrs. Ann Dennis and Mrs. Alice Stiff each sang two solos which were very pleasantly rendered.

Mrs. William Healey, Mrs. Nettie Collins and Mrs. Cora Davis served as the anniversary committee.

NAUTILUS CLUB DANCE

The Song and Dance Revue given under the auspices of The Nautilus Woman's Club in Town Hall on Saturday evening August 9th was an unqualified success. Skillfully directed by Lenora Nickerson, with music by "Dok" Eisenbourg and his Sinfonians, every number of the revue and the general dancing between each number was enjoyed by a large and enthusiastic gathering.

The Costumes were unusually lovely and, colorful and the special numbers, "With You", "You've Got That Thing", "Flying High" were effectively rendered.

The Spanish dance was also a very striking number. Much credit must be given to each one participating in the revue and to the manager, Mr. Dan Merrill, President of the Nautilus Club. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Club.

NAUTILUS CLUB STYLE SHOW

The Style Show held by the Nautilus Club on Monday afternoon was a decidedly interesting affair. The Clubroom was arranged like a store in miniature, with the merchandise from the various local establishments attractively displayed on tables and stands. There was a wide variety of goods on exhibition, all of which were new or seasonable items. From the very attractive fall model hats and berets for every occasion to the display of autumn suits and gowns for dressy and everyday wear, new styles in shoes with attractive hosiery to match, lovely scarfs, jewelry suggestions and even underthings, all the appurtenances of a fall wardrobe were shown.

Articles to interest the homemaker were displayed in tempting colored enamel ware for the kitchen, in new and clever electrical devices as labor-saving as they were good-looking, attractive bedding and colorful linens. The children's needs were represented by small coats, dresses and shoes and even father was appealed to with a rack of nice-looking and extremely practical neckties. Gifts suggestive of Christmas or any day were shown by several of the local gift shops—new stationery, lamps, pottery, spode-ware, vanities and jewelry making bright and attractive displays. A few well-chosen modern pieces of furniture made an interesting exhibit and a choice antique table and chair completed the showing.

Judging from comments made by the visitors, this small, intimate and representative exhibit awakened a real interest and should benefit both people and exhibitors. The merchants who loaned their merchandise for the Style Show were: Allen and Allen, J. E. Atkins, E. J. Rivard, Kobrin and Davidson, Libby's Antique Shop, Mrs. Hannah Curran, Mrs. Emma Cudois, Mrs. Mattie Gaspa, Mrs. Annie Dyer, The New York Store, D. A. Matheson, John M. Silva, Herman A. Robinson, Harbor Vanity Shop, H. M. Malchman, The Spode Shop, The Mayflower Shop and The Advocate and Town Crier Shops.

During the show, punch and crackers were served. The exhibit was under the direction of Mrs. Wm. Young, Mrs. D. H. Hiebert and Mrs. Merle Higgins.

The Nautilus Club held another of its pleasing programs Monday afternoon which was designated as Conservation Day.

G. E. T. Ward of Orleans spoke on the subject of gardening. Paul Smith, well known here, gave a talk on bog gardens and wild orchids.

Music was furnished by the trio composed of Mrs. Josephine Patterson, pianist, Mrs. Hersey Taylor, cellist, and William J. McCaffrey, violinist. Mrs. Gladys Knudson sang the appealing song "Trees," with an obligato by Mr. McCaffrey.

Mrs. William Young had charge of the program. Mrs. Horace Watson and Mrs. Eugene Watson were the hostesses. Refreshments were served.

On Friday afternoon, April 28 at 2:30 p. m., Presidents Day will be observed at the Church of the Pilgrims. Mrs. Bennett, state President, will be present. Mrs. Darrow Adams and Mrs. Horace Hallett will be the hostesses. All Cape clubs are invited.

Federation Speaks At Nautilus Club

"It is my hope that the Nautilus Club can visit the State Federation next year," stated Mrs. Frank Bennett, State President, in her talk at the Nautilus Club meeting Friday afternoon in the Congregationalist Church vestry.

"I wish we could bring more conferences nearer," Mrs. Bennett continued, "I realize you cannot go to Boston for everything we have. We would love to bring you any conferences you ask us."

Mrs. Bennett then went on to name the many interesting events which were enjoyed on the State Club's program this year. In mentioning the department of art, the speaker paused to praise the artistic decoration of the room of which Mrs. Clarence Curley had charge, adding that Provincetown had a splendid opportunity to study and observe art.

Further mention was then made of conferences through the year from which the Nautilus Club might borrow ideas.

A chorus of voices were formed, as well as a dramatic club, which gave a little play during the year. Other conferences mentioned were those of the Handicap meeting, in which afflicted persons were invited; International Unity Conference, where special effort was made to make the foreign born better citizens if this country of ours is to function; American Home Conference, in which young married women were made to feel their importance in club work; Industry conference, at which representatives from American labor were present to acquaint members with labor conditions. It was a very interesting year of club activity for the State Federation.

Invitation was given for Nautilus Club members to be present at the picnic of the State Club September 13, 1933.

As a final inspiring message, the President said that the depression had hurt the younger people more than it had the older generation, as the older citizens were used to disappointments. The young people who were to enter college must oftentimes give up that ambition; those who graduated from colleges had the idea that they were to hew out careers either in the business or art world, or marriage. But there are few jobs open and many marriages cannot take place on account of lack of funds.

"We older people must teach courtesy," ended Mrs. Bennett simply. "It is courtesy that makes the wheels go round—courtesy and courage and con-

The close of another successful club year is drawing near. The next to the final meeting of the year of 1932-33 was held Monday afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

The election of officers then took place for the year of 1933-34 who will take over their new duties in October. The following are elected:

President, Mrs. Isaiah Small; Vice President, Mrs. George Allen; Treasurer Mrs. Percy Bemis; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Walter Stiff; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. William Pierce.

The programs for the next season will be distributed next autumn.

Discussion was also brought before the members of the Dinner and Theatre Party to be held Monday, May 22. Members will be notified of the exact details of the entertainment at an early date.

"We older people must teach courtesy," ended Mrs. Bennett simply. "It is courtesy that makes the wheels go round—courtesy and courage and confidence. Our times are likened to the days of Columbus. He did not know where he was going, he did not know where he was when he got there, and he did not know where he had been when he got home.

"It is up to us to bring courage and confidence and courtesy to the young people that they may know it is the Club Women who are carrying the torch."

A large number of guests and members from town and the upper Cape were present at the meeting. Mrs. W. H. Milliken, president of the Nautilus Club, presided at the meeting. Other speakers of the day were Mrs. Grace Snow, Harwichport, former district manager, and Mrs. Heman Harding, who is retiring in May from the office of fourth vice president of the Federation, who each had a gracious message to give.

The musical part of the program was much appreciated. Mrs. Walter Stiff and Mrs. Gladys Knudson sang a duet, and a trio composed of Mrs. Hersey Taylor, cello, William J. McCaffrey, violin, and Mrs. Josephine Patterson, piano rendered enjoyable pieces. Their selections were as follows: Opening number by the trio, "Cavatina" by Rafe; vocal duet, "Oh That We Two Were Maying," by Alice M. Smith; violin solo, Mr. McCaffrey, "Ave Maria," by Schubert; trio, "Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana," and "Angel's Serenade" by G. Braga.

The room was profusely decorated with seasonal flowers of daffodils, carnations and vines. The orange and blue curtains carried out the brilliant and springlike color scheme. The table from which tea was served was handsome with lighted green candles and the sparkling silverware. Mrs. Ralph Carpenter and Mrs. Horace Hallett poured the tea and coffee. Refreshments of sandwiches and cakes were served.

Provincetown Nautilus Club Members Conduct 1937 Thirtieth Birthday Party

History of Group Is Recounted At Meeting

PROVINCETOWN, Feb. 16—In softly gay and reminiscent mood, 34 members of the Nautilus Club of Provincetown observed the 30th birthday of the club last night in the clubhouse, as candlelight glimmered over the pink-and-silver dinner tables, pleasantly contrasting with quaint and lovely costumes.

Strictly a membership party, the observance was carried out in intimate and informal fashion, with members furnishing the entire program of music, readings and humorous journeys into the club's history. Dinner table decorations combined the club colors, pink silver, incandlabra, tapers, napkins and dollies.

Presentation of birthday bags, colored sacks containing penny milestones representing the club's age, followed the dinner. A number of bags came also from absent members and added substantially to club funds.

One of the most amusing features of the program was contributed by Mrs. Daniel H. Hiebert who, attired in top hat and tails, essayed a Winchellian excursion into the past, aided by the club's press book. The time when Blanche Ring, famed actress, once found the perfect clam pie recipe in a member's cook book, when the drinking fountain was presented to the town,—every aid the club gave to the advancement of Provincetown for three decades was revived in Mrs. Hiebert's amusing recital.

Songs by Mrs. Alice Stiff and Mrs. Ina Snow, past presidents, three readings by Miss Nina Williams, charter member,—including "Scat!," with a side reference to Provincetown's stray feline episode of the week-end a history of the club read by Mrs. Helen Pierce, completed the program arranged by Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Hiebert and Mrs. Anne Dennis. Community singing, always a club feature, was also on the program.

The evening ended with the cutting of the birthday cake and its serving by Miss Nina Williams, Miss Louise C. Paine and Mrs. William H. Healey.

Community singing, always a club feature, was also on the program.

The evening ended with the cutting of the birthday cake and its serving by Miss Nina Williams, Miss Louise C. Paine and Mrs. William H. Healey.

Many of the costumes worn proved to be heirlooms, Mrs. Fred Graham, president, wearing a lovely gown once her grand-mother's, wit ha bustle. Mrs. William H. Young drew special attention with hat and dress of her aunt, and Mrs. William Haley wore her own jaunty wedding hat. Mrs. Charles B. Hannum brought a fine white shawl which came from her great-aunt. Mrs. William Gilman, Mrs. Earl Mcree and Mrs. Claire Freeland were a trio in delicate Chinese garb, glowingly colorful.

Hostesses were chairmen of standing committees, including Mrs. Joseph Dennis, Mrs. Charles T. Forrest, Mrs. William Pierce, Mrs. Henry A. Helmer, Mrs. Louis A. Law, Miss Helen Jones, Miss Janet Lewis, Mrs. William F. Gilman, Mrs. Daniel H. Hiebert, Mrs. George M. Allen and Mrs. Zerna V. Arthur.

Table decorations were arranged by Mrs. Louis Law and Mrs. M. F. Patrick. John Edwards served as caterer.

Committee chairmen made their annual reports and the following officers were elected for the year at the last Nautilus Club meeting: President, Mrs. Fred H. Graham; first vice-president, Miss Helen Jones; second vice-president, Mrs. Manuel F. Patrick; recording secretary, Mrs. Maude Duganne; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles Hannum; treasurer, Mrs. John C. Jones; auditor, Mrs. Hersey D. Taylor; directors, Mrs. George M. Allen, Mrs. I. A. Small. Hostesses for the meeting were, Mrs. T. Julien Lewis, Miss Janet W. Lewis. The club's annual "May Frolic" will take place the afternoon of May 25 at the North Truro cottage of Mrs. Louis A. Nautilus Club

The Nautilus Club had a very interesting evening on Monday. The meeting was in charge of the music and drama committee with Mrs. Daniel Hiebert as chairman.

Mr. McCaffrey played the violin while Miss Margaret Witherstine accompanied him expertly, on the piano. They played Fifth Air by De Berliott and Gounod's well known "Ave Maria." Mr. McCaffrey played the latter with such feeling as to leave his audience breathless.

Mr. Arthur Bickers gave two recitations from Shakespeare, "Cassin's Speech" from Julius Caesar, and "Jacques' Speech on the Seven Ages of Man" from "As You Like It." Also "The Fool's Prayer" and one humorous selection. The applause Mr. Bickers received, denoted that the audience could have listened to more.

The last performers were Fritz Fuglister on the violin with Beatrice Brown at the piano. Mr. Fuglister and Miss Brown are both painters of considerable ability as well as accomplished musicians. Mr. Fuglister spent three years at the Washington, D. C. College of Music. Their first number was Mozart's Eighth Soanta in C major, written in three movements. Their second was a romance by Frensdén.

The evening's entertainment attracted as many men as women. It is gratifying to know that in a small town like Provincetown, every one of these capable performers are citizens of our town. We are proud of them, we glory in them.

A baked bean supper will be served by the Nautilus Club at the Board of Trade building, next Saturday evening,

Nautilus Club 1936

On October 12 at the first fall meeting of the Nautilus Club, the program for the coming year was announced. The club plans under that will be of interest not only to the members but to the town in general.

There is to be an open meeting on November 20th at the Center Methodist Church. The lecturer is to be Miss Mary Sue Wrigley of Dawson, Alabama. Though her subject has not yet been announced, it is sure to be well worth while. The club hopes to fill the church to capacity.

Mrs. Graham has just returned from the monthly institute of the State Federation. She announced that every speaker on the program included in her talk a message urging all women to exercise their right to vote at the coming election. Mrs. Graham also urged all members of the club no matter what their party or feelings, to get out and express them on the ballot.

At the close of the meeting a tea was given in honor of Miss Helen Jones in recognition of her great success as manager of the flower show in August. Three new members were welcomed: Mrs. Morris Horner, Mrs. Seraphine Steele and Mrs. Waldo Brown.

The club is looking forward to a most interesting and profitable year. We have a very live ways and means committee which assures to us money enough to carry on our projects.

Our president is stressing friendliness, understanding and co-operation and a greatly increased membership roll.

Nautilus Club 1936-38

At the Nautilus Club gathering on Monday night, Mr. Gilbert Rich, librarian of the Provincetown Library, was guest speaker. He gave a book review on Joseph Lincoln's new book, "Cape Cod Yesterdays," in an exceedingly impressive manner.

It was Mr. Rich's first appearance before the club, and the members expressed their appreciation with hearty applause. The hostesses were Miss Nina Williams and Mrs. Waldo Brown.

Mrs. Fred Graham, club president, announced that the state institute of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs will take place in Boston on January 7. She also disclosed that several members of the Nautilus Club plan to attend the institute.

Nautilus Club

On Monday, December 7th, the Nautilus Club met at the home of Mrs. Augustus Smith. The purpose of this meeting was to wrap and assemble bags of Christmas gifts for tubercular World War veterans at the hospital in Rutland.

These bags were made of bright colored cretonnes. The contents were uniform. Each man received woolen gloves, stockings and hat, tooth paste, soap and wash cloth, half a carton of cigarettes, a package of pipe tobacco, candy, handkerchiefs, writing paper, pencils, two packs of playing cards, an ash tray and chewing gum.

Wehn the bags had been filled there was such a collection of odd things left over that another bag was made and filled to be sent as a grab bag.

After the work was done Mrs. Smith served cakes and coffee, and her guests were taken through the house. Mrs. Smith has taken the Ritchie home for the winter. This house is very different and most artistic. It was almost like a trip through a museum.

The Nautilus Club held its Christmas party on Monday at the club rooms. Each member brought two gifts with her. These are to be given to the poor children in the town.

The members played games for an hour and a half. Mrs. Waldo Brown and Mrs. Fred H. Graham were hostesses and served ice cream and cake and coffee.

Besides giving toys, the club is also donating ice cream for the Christmas dinner at the Town Home as well as sending gifts to those club members who are ill.

Nautilus Club Holds Annual Meeting 1936

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Nautilus Club was held on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred H. Graham was elected president of the club, succeeding Mrs. George M. Allen. Other officers elected were Miss Helen Jones, first vice-president; Mrs. M. F. Patrick, second vice-president; Mrs. Maude Duganne, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Hannum, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John C. Jones, treasurer; Mrs. Hersey D. Taylor, auditor, and Mrs. George M. Allen and Mrs. I. A. Small, directors.

Annual reports were read by the chairmen of the various committees.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. T. Julian Lewis and Miss Janet W. Lewis. Ice cream and fancy crackers were served as refreshments.

The May Frolic of the club will be held Monday afternoon, May 25th, at the North Truro cottage of Mrs. Louis A. Law.

'SPRING FROLIC' HELD BY CLUB

Nautilus Members Gather for Annual Outing, An- nounce Projects

Special to Standard-Times

1936

PROVINCETOWN, May 28

—Newly-elected officers assumed their duties, chairmen of committees were announced and projects for the ensuing year were announced when the Nautilus Club members had their annual "Spring Frolic" at the Summer cottage of Mrs. Louis Law in North Truro.

In her first address as president, Mrs. Fred Graham expressed the assurance the club's future activities of the year will have the effect of bringing about "a widening influence through the town, increased membership and increased cooperation." Four new members were announced, Mrs. Sadie Crawford, Mrs. Maurice Horner, Mrs. Seraphine Steele, Mrs. Waldo Brown.

Chairmen Named

Chairmen of committees were announced as follows: Art, Mrs. Joseph Dennis; American home, Mrs. Charles Forrest; public health and child welfare, Mrs. William Pierce; conservation, Mrs. Henry Helmer; cooperating with war veterans, Mrs. Louis Law; flower committee, Mrs. Ernest Davis; house committee, Mrs. Horace Watson; international relations, Miss Helen Jones; legislative, Miss Janet Lewis; literature and drama, Mrs. B. R. Gage; membership and hospitality, Mrs. William Gilman; music, Mrs. Daniel Hiebert; press and publicity, Mrs. Hilda Patrick; program, Mrs. George Allen; ways and means, Mrs. Zerna Arthur; custodian of guest book, Mrs. John R. Manta; year book, Mrs. Dan Merrill.

Plans for a flower show that is to take place in mid-August were discussed, and Miss Helen Jones was named chairman of a special committee. The club proposes to make this an impressive community event, and of interest to residents throughout the Cape. Participation of florists, local merchants and flower lovers in general will be invited.

Plans for Flower Show

It is planned to have a special department for exhibiting local wild flowers, and boys and girls of the town will be invited to display flowers or vegetables they have grown themselves. The flower show committee had a special meeting and it was announced Miss Jones will announce her program soon.

The club members presented to Mrs. George Allen a pair of bronze book ends in appreciation of her two years of service. Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Graham, who recently attended the convention of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs at Swampscott, gave a comprehensive report of the proceedings. Mrs. Gage gave a short talk dealing with her visit to the kennels of the Seeing Eye, at Morristown, N. J., where German shepherd dogs are trained to be companions of blind people. After the business of the day the members had dinner at The Willows, North Truro.

Nautilus Club

The Nautilus Club met at their club rooms on Monday at 2:30 p. m. The program was in the hands of the committee on International Relations.

A group of five women gave a round table discussion on Education for Peace. These women had all attended the meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at the Hotel Brunswick in Boston on November 13th.

The discussion of Monday was based on the speech made by Miss Mildred McAfee, Wellesley's new president. Miss Helen Jones acted as chairman. She gave a short resume of Miss McAfee's speech. Then Mrs. I. M. Small was asked to tell what use could be made of propaganda in Education for Peace. Mrs. Small, after stating how high pressure advertising sold merchandise, showed that this could be done for peace just as it had been done for war 18 years ago. Miss Grace Goveia showed that persecution of discontented groups within a government would never accomplish its purpose. "Let us not forget," said Miss Goveia, "that the Christian Church was founded on the blood of the martyrs." Mrs. Blanche Graham told how we must really feel brotherly towards all our fellow men, whether we understand their motives or not. That we must try to separate what people did, from the people themselves, and carry a more altruistic attitude through life. Mrs. Hilda Patrick spoke on how to educate and how not to educate young people so that ultimate peace may be brought about.

Artist Speaks To Club Folk

Boogar Stresses Need Of Apprenticeship In Projects

William Boogar, Provincetown sculptor in brass, explained the mysteries of his craft in an absorbing talk Monday night before the Nautilus Club, Provincetown. He laid stress upon the value of apprenticeship in art and said that this should be required in all WPA art projects.

He gave a brief history of hewing, casting, and other characteristics of the sculptor.

"In bygone years the apprenticing of a boy to a craftsman was a regular feature of art trading," said the sculptor. "Today most practitioners begin with theory and get their experience while they are working for the market. They are not real artists when they begin.

"The government by virtues of the WPA art movement will probably continue to sponsor American art after art WPA goes out of fashion. I hope that when the taxpayers begin to pay for the support of our country's art they will require a stricter apprenticeship on young artists who are receiving government aid so that only real artists will be turned out."

Methods Are Described

Mr. Booger described the various processes of metal casting, starting with a wax model and the use of clay. "Any caster" he said, "is essentially a gambler. He may spend months and months on a job and then make one misstep that will ruin all his work. My preference is to work with small things for I believe that they are the most lasting. They convey the true personality of the artist. When a huge object in art is done the artist has to rely on craftsmen to help him and in this way his personality is often submerged."

The Nautilus Club members were obviously thrilled and fascinated by a display of embroidery, patterned after Jugoslavian Tyrolean, and other foreign modes of embroidery displayed by Mrs. Morris Horner. Mrs. Horner said she had devoted to needlework since she was a girl and her exhibit were the result of long years of application.

She said she had received her first training in this craft from nuns in a convent.

The program was in charge of the art committee, Mrs. Joseph Dennis, chairman. Hostesses were Mrs. Clara Watson and Mrs. Dora Watson.

GOVERNMENT AID TO ART IS URGED

Artist, Hopes Patronage Will Be Permanent

PROVINCETOWN, March 23—Government patronage of art may become permanent after present WPA aid to all classes of unemployed ceases, William Borgar, Provincetown artist in bronze, told members of the Nautilus Club of Provincetown Monday night at a meeting under the direction of its art committee, with Mrs. Joseph Dennis as chairman.

"Our Government has become art conscious and is providing funds to enable artists to make a living," he declared. He warned, however, that taxpayers who must pay to finance Government philanthropies in the world of art should take care to insure the qualifications of artists aided.

"Today," Borgar stated, "our schools start with theory and bring forth crop after crop of untried youths who have not yet shown whether they are artists or artisans."

Craft art of another variety was the topic of the talk given by Mrs. Morris L. Horner.

COMMUNITY FLOWER SHOW

SATURDAY, AUGUST 15th—10 A. M. TO 9 P. M.

Admission 25c. Children under 12, 10c if with an Adult

Community Flower Show Opens Friday

The Community Flower Show under the auspices of the Nautilus Club, will open tomorrow (Friday) at 2 p. m. and continue until 9 p. m. It will be open again Saturday from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. The town hall has been transformed into a large garden. A border of trees about the stage for background with an electric fountain playing at one side adds to the attractiveness.

Curious specimens of the plant world, artistic shadow boxes, a whole garden in a bottle, delightful flower arrangements, beautiful single specimens of flowers and tables set with china that will be a joy to behold are some of the things visitors will see.

This is the first Flower Show ever to be held in Provincetown and great interest has been shown in it. The committee has received hearty cooperation from merchants, artists, gardeners and florists. Mr. Wilfred Wheeler, former commissioner of agriculture, will be present Friday morning to judge the show and to award the prize ribbons.

A unique exhibit has been sent from the Massachusetts State Agricultural College.

Club and Lodge Notes

Nautilus Club

There will be many points of interest in the Community Flower Show to be held here in the town hall on August 14th and 15th. One of the greatest will be the tables set with rare old china and glass and with appropriate floral decorations. One whole side of the hall will be filled with these.

The commercial exhibits of everything pertaining to a garden from tools to milady's gown and hat as she cultivates her flowers or entertains her friends, will fill the opposite side. Also garden books of which the Book Shop will have an interesting display. The shadow boxes arranged largely by some of our artists, will be most unusual and are sure to create great interest. Artists having flower or garden pictures they would like to exhibit should communicate with Mrs. Henry Helmer.

The center of the hall will be reserved for "arrangements" of flowers or just old fashioned bouquets in suitable containers, specimens of one flower or collections of three flowers of a kind, potted plants which may be flowering, foliage or unusual plants, miniature bouquets not over six inches tall, and dish gardens.

This is a community show, so let everyone in the community help to make it a success by exhibiting flowers in some class. Ask one of the following named ladies for a schedule and begin planning your exhibit: Mrs. D. C. Merrill, Mrs. W. H. Healy, Mrs. Harriet Leonard, Janet Lewis, Mrs. Morris

Flower Show Space Is Still Available

Reservations for space in the Nautilus Club Flower Show to be held in the Town Hall on August 14 and 15, must be made this week, according to Helen M. Jones, general chairman of the show. Applications will be accepted by any member of the committee in charge.

The committee is making every effort to have this initial endeavor a community event and requests every flower lover in town to have some part in the show. Residents may exhibit in each class, but advance notice must be given the committee so that space will be reserved.

The center of the hall has been devoted to local exhibits and much of the available space has been taken.

Persons having a single plant or flower that they might like to show, may enter the specimen class. Arrangements from private gardens are also eligible.

According to the committee it is not necessary to own a garden to enter the show. Arrangements of wild flowers, of which there is an abundance locally, are acceptable and prizes will be awarded for them.

A complete schedule of the show is available at W. G. Stiff's Photo Shop.

NAUTILUS CLUB TO SPONSOR SHOW

Flower Exhibit Will Be Held in Mid-August

Special to Standard-Times

PROVINCETOWN, June 10—A massive "flower show," in which all specimens of natural blooms on the end of the Cape and many prized cultured plants in local gardens will be displayed, will take place in Town Hall in mid-August under auspices of the Nautilus Club.

Several score exhibitors and many of the town's junior gardeners will be represented, for the floral demonstration is expected to be the most impressive nature event witnessed here in modern years, according to those in charge of the show when they met yesterday. Miss Helen M. Jones was named the general chairman on arrangements. The following special committees were announced: Floor arrangements, Miss Janet Lewis and Mrs. Harriet Leonard; specimens, Mrs. Louis Law and Mrs. George Driver; miniatures, Mrs. Hersey D. Taylor and Mrs. John R. Manta; shadow boxes, Mrs. Henry Helmer and Mrs. D. H. Hiebert; wild flowers, Mrs. George Allen and Mrs. Joseph Dennis; tables, Mrs. Dan C. Merrill and Mrs. William Healey; junior exhibit, Mrs. William Pierce and Mrs. Manuel Patrick; commercial exhibit, Mrs. Percy Beemis.

Nautilus Club

The regular business meeting was held Monday afternoon. Mrs. Thomas Blakeman explained the purpose and workings of the proposed new broadcasting station to be erected at Osterville. The club voted to endorse this project.

The program was in charge of the American Home Committee, Mrs. Charles T. Forrest, chairman, and consisted of a talk by Miss Gladys Felton, Junior Extension agent of Barnstable county.

Her subject was 4-H Club work on Cape Cod, and she showed motion pictures of Camp Farley, the 4-H Club at Mashpee.

Mrs. John H. Kimball of Boston, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, will be honor guest at a program planned by the Nautilus Club of Provincetown for April 12, when presidents of clubs in the First District, are to be present. She also has been invited to attend the meeting of Hyannis Woman's Club the following day when the Drama Department will present a special entertainment.

Miss Ida M. Taylor Named To Head Cape Association

Harwich Woman Is Elected To Lead Past Noble Grands

PROVINCETOWN, March 31—Miss Ida M. Taylor of Satucket Rebekah Lodge, Harwich, was elected president of Cape Cod Past Noble Grand Association No. 10 last night at the quarterly meeting held in Odd Fellows with Charity Lodge, Provincetown as hostesses.

Named to serve with her were Mrs. Sarah Penniman, of Benevolence Lodge, Orleans, first vice president; Mrs. Gladys Sherman, Willing Hand, Hyannis, second vice president; Mrs. Alice M. Gould, Fahneta, Falmouth, secretary; and Mrs. Nita F. Eldredge, of Satucket, treasurer. Mrs. Gertrude Rose is chaplain.

The new officers will be installed April 29 at Falmouth on guest day when Mrs. May L. Goodwin of Lynn, president of the State Rebekah Assembly, will be the principal visitor. Mrs. Alice Miller, of Falmouth, retiring president of the Cape Cod group, unable to be present last night, will relinquish her office then to Miss Taylor.

Turkey Supper Served

Charity Lodge served a turkey supper to its guests under the direction of Mrs. Minnie Rivard, and guests heard a program of vocal music and readings arranged by Miss Annabelle McQuarrie. The program included a solo by Mrs. Alice Stiff, a duet by Mrs. Stiff and Mrs. Richard Jennings, and readings by Mrs. Jennings and Miss McQuarrie. Mrs. Rivard was assisted by a committee which included Mrs. Marion Jennings, Mrs. Hazel Stone, Mrs. Christine Cabral and Miss Janet Lewis.

Guests from Cape towns included Mrs. Ida M. Taylor, Miss Sabra Newcomb, Mrs. John H. Paine, and Mrs. Wilbur H. Crowell from Harwich Satucket Lodge; Mrs. Lillian Cook, Mrs. Doris and Ethel O'Brien, Mrs. Elizabeth Grew, Mrs. Gertrude Murray, Mrs. Abbie Stiff, and Mrs. Magdalene Chase, of Hyannis Willing Hand Lodge; and Mrs. Elva Leighton, Mrs. Minnie Sherman, Mrs. Celia Crosby, Mrs. Alice Bee, Mrs. Anna Knowles, Mrs. Addie Fulcher, Mrs. Gertrude Rose and Mrs. Ethel Sherman of Benevolence Lodge, Orleans.

Governor's Night Is Most Spectacular Event of Year

Governor's Night is the traditionally supreme social occasion of the entire year for the Massachusetts clubwomen. For this event the greatest crowd assembles. The prettiest frocks are brought out. The most flowers are carried and worn. Presidents "come into their own" and are cheered to the echo. It is a jollification.

This year was no exception. Never did so many orchids adorn clubwomen's shoulders. Never were there such nifty "hairdos." Never were the gowns so becoming and lovely. Never did such a company of seniors look so youthful. It was superb in every way.

To crown it all, for the first time in several years a Governor and his wife honored the federation with their presence throughout the evening Tuesday. The radiantly charming Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall won the admiration of every one with her beaming smile. She wore a simple black gown that had a pleated skirt and a short-sleeved jacket, on which was pinned a corsage of orchids. With it she wore a little scarf in two shades of green. The genial Governor was equally smiling, and informally entertaining, and his aide, Maj. Daniel Tyler, Jr., of Brookline, shed glamour upon the function with his most formal evening attire, plentifully high-lighted with gold braid, epaulets and gold buttons.

Arriving in time for the banquet, they were escorted into the dining room by a platoon of high federation officials, to the accompaniment of martial music, as diners at every table stood at attention. Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, the president, who had appeared the previous evening in rich deep blue velvet fashioned with edifice of gold and blue brocade, for this event wore a soft jade green lace gown with a jacket, made over matching satin.

Following a custom established last year, the long recessional of nearly 300 presidents, led by their directors holding aloft golden numbers, and with two pretty standard bearers, Mrs. William O. Jahn of East Bridgewater and Mrs. Everett O. Moxon of South Weymouth, carrying the national and state flags, circled the hall at the conclusion of the program and paraded back to the hotel. There they formed in two long lines from the ballroom doors down the corridors to the east entrance, in expectation that the Governor and other notables would pass through. By some small inadvertence, however, these dignitaries made their entrance at the front of the hotel and went directly to their places for receiving. But none-the-less, it was a spectacular occasion.

An instrumental trio furnished music as the long queue filed past to be received. In the line of officials were Mrs. John H. Kimball, in white taffeta, with an embroidered jacket; Mrs. David A. Westcott in black lace; Mrs. Herbert F. French, also in black lace; Mrs. Olaf Hoff, Jr., in pale green-gray, made with Eton jacket, and Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, another wearing black.

Mrs. John R. Dallinger's purple gown had an accordion-pleated cape; Mrs. Charles L. Fuller wore a flowered silk of yellow and brown tones; Mrs. A. Wilson Atwood was in pale purple chiffon; Mrs. John F. Capron, in black ornamented with rhinestones, and Miss Eleanor Hudson in lilac chiffon, belted in red.

Mrs. James G. Clarke, chairman of the meetings committee, and Mrs. Whitfield W. Johnson, vice-chairman, superintended the reception, both wearing lovely gowns of black.

MRS. GRACE POOLE REYNOLDS

A telegram of good wishes from Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole Reynolds at Paducah, Ky., and another sent to her in reply which was to reach her on her birthday, Wednesday, were reminders that on that date two years ago she was given a prenuptial shower in anticipation of her forthcoming marriage to Dr. Henry Gilbert Reynolds, which took place the following fall.

ADMIRATION FOR GALLANTRY

The sympathy of the entire federation went out to Mrs. James G. Clarke of Scituate, chairman of the meetings committee, and great admiration for her fine sportsmanship in attending the convention and carrying on this tremendous task so efficiently, in spite of recent bereavement in her home, an undertaking which required utmost courage and gallantry.

Mrs. Hilda Winslow Patrick, member of the Nautilus Club of Provincetown, and just appointed chairman of the division of public health.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Mrs. A. H. Sampson of the Holyoke Woman's Club has received a $50 prize from the General Federation of Women's Clubs for the second time. This year it was for the fine auto safety campaign inaugurated in the Holyoke High School. The first year 300 students took this course. The second year 1200 reflectors were placed on the bicycles of Holyoke children. The children march down to the police station and the reflectors were put on by the police, who were enthusiastic over the idea.

White-clad, the meetings committee of the Massachusetts State Federation leads off, headed by the chairman, Mrs. James G. Clarke of Scituate (left), and the vice-chairman, Mrs. Whitford W. Johnson of Watertown, in the final processional of the 47th convention, from the Convention hall to the New Ocean House at Swampscott, followed by the flower bedecked state officials.

New Chairmen Qualified for Positions

The brief glimpses of the new departmental chairmen appointed for the coming year, when they were presented by Mrs. Hildreth Wednesday morning, give faint idea of their accomplishments or abilities. Yet each one has special talents for the position which she is to hold.

Miss Mary D. Clare, American citizenship chairman, has been director of the Boston district. She has taken a course in adult education, another in adult alien education and basic English, has received from the state a certificate permitting her to teach those subjects in Massachusetts, and is now a private teacher of basic English. She has also been attending the New England Conservatory of Music to study voice. She has served three years on this division of the federation, and a like term on the public health division. She has been prominent in the Eastern Star, is past president of the Eastern Star Women's Club, and founded the Order of the Rainbow for girls in Brookline.

Mrs. William G. Darrow of Sharon, new chairman of the preservation of antiques, has served on that committee two years. Her own specialty is old woven coverlets. She has been president of the Fortnightly Club of Sharon, was the founder and first president of the Sharon Garden Club, president for 10 years of the Norfolk County Woman's Council and president of the Massachusetts Advisory Council in home demonstration work.

Although Mrs. Hilda Winslow Patrick of Provincetown came to Boston from East Orange, N. J., and has been a clubwoman only three years, she has served for two of those years on the division of public health in the federation, and now is selected to be its chairman. This is due to special training which she has taken in medical work. She took the pre-medical course at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and went to Provincetown, where her sister is a practicing physician. There she was married. Mrs. Patrick has been affiliated with the Barnstable County Health Association for five years and is vice-president of the Cape Cod Health Council and the representative for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Mrs. Josephine Bruce-Chapin of Everett is a writer, and a member of the executive board of the New England Woman's Press Association. She has been the editor of its monthly bulletin for the past two years, and has been on the press and publicity division of the federation the past year.

Mrs. Ralph G. Swain of Brockton, who is to have charge of conservation and gardens, has a wide acquaintance in the federation. Mrs. Franklin S. Nichols of Quincy is a past president of the Women's Club of her city, and is also a sister of Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, federation treasurer. Mrs. Clifford L. Hubbard of Norfolk has served as vice-chairman of the art division, of which she is to be the head, and Mrs. Albert L. Farnsworth of Worcester, new chairman of legislation, has been vice-chairman of that department.

Mrs. Cecil Taylor of Somerville, former president of the Somerville Woman's Club, the new chairman of work for disabled veterans, has served two years in this division, and has been contact chairman for the Dayton Nurses' Home in Ohio. She and Mr. Taylor are both active in Boy Scout work.

Mary Vorse Tells Of Labor Work

Nautilus Club Hears Pioneer —Marjorie Stalker Sings

Mrs. Mary Heaton Vorse, Provincetown resident and one of America's foremost writers on social and labor problems, told members of the Nautilus Club Monday afternoon of her work with the labor movement in this country.

Her activities as a member of Mrs. Averill Harriman's commission which studied the infant mortality rate in 1917, Mrs. Vorse said, lead naturally to an interest in the wage question. Tracing her work from that point, Mrs. Vorse reviewed the organization of the garment workers' union and sketched the development of this group of workers since they emerged from the "sweatshop" class of labor.

In conclusion, Mrs. Vorse told why Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan refused to oust the sit-down strikers during the automobile labor crisis two years ago.

Miss Marjorie Stalker, Provincetown soprano, accompanied by Mrs. S. Osborn Ball, sang Godfrey Nutting's "With You" and "The Kashmiri Song" by Amy W. Finden. Mrs. William N. Rogers, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced that the club will hold a dessert bridge at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the club rooms.
